This recommends commendation for New York Office (NYO) Agents and Bureau Supervisor for the efficient manner in which Banks was located and his arrest effected by the U. S. Marshal (USM).

Banks, a U. S. citizen and Seafarers' International Union (SIU) official, was convicted in Montreal, Canada, in 1964 of conspiracy in beating a rival union official. He fled to the U. S. while free on $25,000 bail. This was not an extraditable offense. Since then the Opposition Members of Parliament have charged that the Canadian Government did not want Banks returned to Canada and this has received considerable press coverage in Canada.

[redacted] advised that late on 8/28/67 Banks was

b7D

[redacted] Banks was last known to have been working for the SIU in Brooklyn, N.Y., and residing at an unknown address there. NYO was instructed to initiate discreet surveillance on Banks' possible places of employment and residence and to make no open inquiry as he might learn of the warrant and flee. The only information available regarding his residence was a poor Xerox of a newspaper photograph of a building, identified as Banks' residence, which had appeared in a Toronto paper in 1964.

arrest in Canada, and a Canadian reporter announced he was enroute to New York and would secure a story from Banks while the FBI was looking for him. At this point as he had not been located by discreet surveillance, the NYO was instructed to conduct open inquiry. Starting with interviews at the newly located residence, he was traced to a union establishment and put under surveillance.

Close liaison was maintained with the local attorney, the USC, and the USM. By locating and keeping Banks under surveillance, the U. S. warrant was obtained in the district where he was located and U. S. Marshals were directed to him. His arrest was accomplished efficiently and without any adverse criticism from the Canadian press. Banks is still being held by the USM without bail and a hearing in the matter has been postponed until 9/20/67 at the request of his lawyer.

By attached letter 9/11/67 the New York Office recommended commendation for the Agents involved in the investigation and we concur with the recommendation. In addition, this case was supervised throughout at the Seat of Government by Supervisor in Charge, [redacted]. He directed every stage of the investigation efficiently and handled liaison with [redacted]. He devoted the better part of two full days to this case and conducted the immediate file review which developed the necessary background, giving no thought to his personal convenience and working throughout his lunch period on both days. He was in constant touch with the NYO then, giving instructions, and at the same time keeping Bureau officials fully informed. It is recommended Supervisor [redacted] be commended for his efficient and productive supervision of this case.

This is an increase over the figure for the previous month and should be reduced if at all possible. After reviewing the results of the recent inspection of the New York Office I have approved the following ratings for your operations: Investigative Operations - Fair; Physical Condition and Maintenance, Administrative Operations, Personnel Matters and Applicant Recruitment Matters - Very Good; Contacts - Excellent.

Your office space, including that of the Resident Agencies, was found to be adequate, secure and well maintained. No safety defects were found in the cars inspected and your repair and operating costs approximate Bureau averages. You must be more aggressive in your efforts to secure automobile storage facilities in five Resident Agencies. I note that the incidence of automobile accidents has been reduced. You should not be satisfied, however, until all preventable accidents are eliminated.

Although the racial situation has been relatively quiet in New York, do not be lulled into a false sense of security. The potential for racial violence in your territory is considerable and there is a pressing need for improvement in your Racial Informant and Liaison Source Programs, particularly in the ghetto areas. I shall expect you to have sufficient coverage to insure timely notice of all significant racial developments. Nothing less will be acceptable.

I am not satisfied with the consistently above-average investigative delinquency of the New York Office and the below-average number of cases assigned and case closings by each Agent. I shall expect you and your supervisory staff to take more aggressive steps to improve the productivity of your Agents. The Bureau as a whole is faced with a rapidly rising case load with no comparable increase in Agent personnel. I will expect you and the Agents of the New York Office to carry a full share of these increasing responsibilities with vigor, imagination and determination.

DUPLICATE YELLOW

Mr. John F. Malone

I am greatly concerned that your record of convictions dropped eleven percent for fiscal year 1967 and seventeen percent for the first four months of fiscal year 1968. Improvement is imperative and you should insure that the large backlog of cases awaiting prosecution is closely followed.

The nine substantive errors detected during the inspection indicate a need for strengthening investigative and supervisory procedures in order to eliminate such errors in the future. I was pleased to learn that your office is below average in missed applicant, civil rights and fugitive deadlines.

Your solution rate in bank robbery matters is unimpressive and the large number of unsolved violations seriously detracts from your investigative record. You must closely follow the suggestions made by the Inspector in order to provide the necessary revitalization of these investigations and to accomplish prompt improvement in your solution record.

Your Criminal and Security Informant Programs were rated very good. I was pleased to note the improvement made in Communist Party coverage and penetration of the Nation of Islam leadership, and that developments in the 'New Left' movement are being closely followed. However, you must promptly implement suggestions made by the Inspector aimed at overall improvement of informant coverage in all subversive groups.

(U) The effectiveness in coverage and penetration of foreign intelligence activities is very gratifying. [I note, however, there is a pressing need for improved coverage among Soviet-bloc countries and that more intensive efforts are needed in the satellite and Chinese intelligence fields.] You should also (X) promptly implement streamlining measures recommended by the Inspector so as to realize maximum personnel and economy savings in espionage investigations. Adaptation of automatic data processing equipment in espionage matters must be closely followed and you must press for early institution of the pilot project.

Your Criminal Intelligence and Interstate Gambling Programs were rated excellent. I was pleased to learn you have increased the number of top-echelon informants and that you now have eight member informants in La Cosa Nostra. You should press harder to develop additional live informants in La Cosa Nostra. The fact that you have obtained four gambling convictions thus far in fiscal year 1968 is commendable. I note you have sixty-six individuals under arrest or indictment awaiting prosecution for gambling violations. You should maintain close liaison with both U. S. Attorneys to make certain there are no delays in the prosecution of these cases.

I note that you have made some reduction in the amount of time spent in the office by New York Agents; however, the figure is still too high and I shall certainly expect further reduction.

I was pleased to learn that your Chief Clerk's Office is functioning in a generally smooth fashion and that form errors and misfiled index cards are below average. Suggestions made for improved training of clerical employees which is a necessity in view of the high rate of clerical turnover in your office, should be acted upon immediately. Decentralization of your rotor files, as approved during the inspection, should also serve to improve the overall operations of the Chief Clerk's Office. I note that although your stenographic production is average and retypes low, you have experienced considerable stenographic delinquency due primarily to high turnover and loss of experienced personnel. Close attention should be paid to clerical recruitment and training in order to improve your stenographic production.

I cannot overemphasize the need for you to exercise stringent economies throughout your operation. You must thoroughly implement all suggestions and instructions of the Inspector aimed at economies in equipment, deployment of Agents, and close examination of existing programs and projects to insure maximum value is received for manpower utilized and expenditure of funds.

Your approved personnel complement as of October 5, 1947, was 357 Agents and 531 clerks. An analysis at the Bureau as a result of the elimination of the use of Form FD-210 (Letterhead Memorandum Setting Out Information Regarding Aliens) has determined that the time of one Agent and three typists can be saved by this measure. Your authorized complement has accordingly been reduced to 356 Agents and 530 clerks. As instructed by the Inspector, you should make every effort to handle your increasing responsibilities through judicious use of available Agent manpower. You should place additional emphasis on recruiting clerical employees for your office and you should see to it that each of your employees is frequently reminded of the problem and contributes to its solution.

You must closely follow the status of the ten Agents on limited duty in order to insure that their retention is at all times justified by their productivity and ability to share the work load.

Voluntary overtime being expended by your office was found to be productive and equitably shared. You must insure that all overtime performance continues to meet these criteria. The morale of your employees was found to be high.

Your rating in the important category of applicant recruiting would have been excellent had it not been necessary to censure you for poor results achieved in March and April, 1967. There must be no relaxation of your recruiting efforts and you must continue to impress upon all employees that favorable progress in this vital endeavor depends upon their individual participation.

You and the Special Agents in Charge must carefully study the inspection findings and advise the Bureau within thirty days of the receipt of this letter of the corrective action taken to comply with these instructions and those of the Inspector.

Sincerely yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

Case load and case closings per Agent below average of field as well as offices of similar size. Statistical accomplishments for fiscal year (FY) 1967 up in 3 categories; down 11% in convictions. During first 4 months of FY 1968 up in same 3 categories; down 17% in convictions. Automatic data processing equipment being studied for early implementation of pilot project.

ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS . . . . . VERY GOOD

Office has 48 supervisory desks including Assistant Director and 4 SACs; adequate and equitably assigned. Proposal to shift supervision of Selective Service matters from Criminal to Security Division determined unfeasible. Chief Clerk's Office operating in generally smooth and effective fashion. Project work increased - prompt reduction ordered. High clerical turnover demands more training - suggestions for improvement made. Decentralization of rotor files requested by office justified (approved separately). Form errors and misfiled index cards well below field averages. Stenographic production average; retypes low. Considerable stenographic delinquency since June, 1967, primarily due to high rate of turnover and loss of experienced clerical employees. No male employees overweight and no employees on probation. 10 Agents on limited duty. One limited duty Agent not certified to receive fringe pay. All found productive, sharing work load 52 Agents recruited since last inspection. Quota of 6 clerical applicants per month met or exceeded 7 of last 12 months. Overall quota for past year exceeded by 23 and off-season recruitment substantially near quota. Office censured for failure to meet quota for March and April, 1967, commended for excellent work in recruiting 24 clerical applicants in July, 1967. Eligibility list of clerks for New York Office depleted. Greater effort urged in this area and participation by all Agents stressed. Missed applicant deadlines reduced since last inspection and below average.

CONTACTS . . . . . EXCELLENT

42 Assistant Director contacts (same as last inspection) furnishing excellent diverse services. 18 developed by Malone; all being met by current SACs. Substantial increase in radio appearances - SACs participating. National Academy and Liaison Programs effective. Police training substantially increased and quality improved. Relations with press, public, Federal officials and civic leaders cordial and effective. Relations with U. S. Attorneys(2) generally cordial and effective. Importance of firm dealings with U. S. Dear Mr. Hoover:

I received your SAC letter dated January 4, 1968, which stated that you had approved a new rate of 25% for premium overtime pay.

I and the Special Agents in Charge in the New York office are deeply grateful to you for your generosity in this respect. Many Agents have commented that this is just another manifestation on your part to do everything possible to enhance the position of our Special Agents.

The administrative staff in New York is certain that this kind gesture on your part will help morale immensely. We are also certain that every Agent in the New York office will make every effort to carry his fair share of the workload.

I just thought you would like to know of the deep appreciation of all personnel of the New York office.

All six subjects indicted and arrested in this case on December 18, 1967, were arraigned later in the afternoon before United States District Court Judge Constance Baker Motley. Corallo's bail was set at $10,000, which he posted and was then released. The other five were released on their own recognizance. A preliminary hearing on the charges has been set for December 28, 1967, for all subjects.

As anticipated, the news media, particularly in New York City, gave this case almost sensational coverage. The "New York Times" this morning devoted a substantial part of its first page and two full interior pages to the story. The FBI investigation of the case and arrests were prominently displayed in this paper, as well as other newspapers. Despite United States Attorney Morgenthau's efforts to handle this case to dominate the publicity, he received very little mention. The first mention of him by name in the "New York Times" was toward the bottom of the article and then only mentioned his notice to Mayor Lindsay of the indictment of Marcus, who had been Lindsay's Commissioner of Water, Gas, and Electricity, as well as being a close personal friend.

The video tape of the press release given by Assistant Director Malone was aired on all New York City television channels, in addition to extremely broad radio coverage. All of these media highlighted the FBI investigation and arrest of the subjects. All of the news media in New York, including newspapers, stressed the fact that the arrest of the six subjects represented the culmination of many months of intensive investigation by New York FBI Agents into the efforts of organized crime to penetrate legitimate functions of Government.

In the coverage of the story in Washington, D. C., "The Washington Post and Times Herald" gave complete coverage to the event and nowhere mentioned the name of United States Attorney Morgenthau, its story portraying this case as exclusively an FBI triumph.

There are attached samples of newspaper articles typical of the coverage of this case.

Formidable F.B.I. Man

52 John Francis Malone

THE man who supervised the inquiry of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that led to the indictment of James L. Marcus yesterday is a former school teacher who studied Latin, Classical Greek, French, German and Hebrew. But John Francis Malone, who is in charge of the largest regional office of the F.B.I., is now all in the F.B.I. man. He wears dark suits, his tie is always in place, his handshake is firm, his stride purposeful, his voice strong and his faith in the bureau unswerving.

When Mr. Malone talks about his work there is just a hint that he would like to see more rough-and-tumble action than he does now as assistant director of the New York office of the F.B.I. He not only does less scurrying around now on the job, but also has less time for his favorite pastime, golf.

Mr. Malone, who is 57 years old, tries to walk as much as possible, but he even has a handicap there, because it is only about five blocks from his apartment at 420 East 72d Street to his office at Third Avenue and 69th Street.

The possibility that he will be involved in a dangerous case at any moment always exists for Mr. Malone. For as head man here (although his title is assistant director) he is required by the bureau's long-standing regulations to be involved "on the spot" in any case considered dangerous, such as the apprehension of an armed bank robber.

Formidable Foe

Mr. Malone would appear to be a formidable foe—he is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 190 pounds and has given firearms instruction to new agents.

In his 26 years with the F.B.I., Mr. Malone has had his share of dangerous cases, although modesty and the usual tight-lipped policy of the bureau keep him from discussing them.

In fact, although newsmen are hardly surprised now, he responded traditionally yesterday when he telephoned Washington before giving out biographical material of himself.

The material includes the fact that Mr. Malone, who was born Oct. 21, 1910, in Carbondale, Pa., became a school teacher there shortly after graduating with a B.A. degree from the University of Scranton.

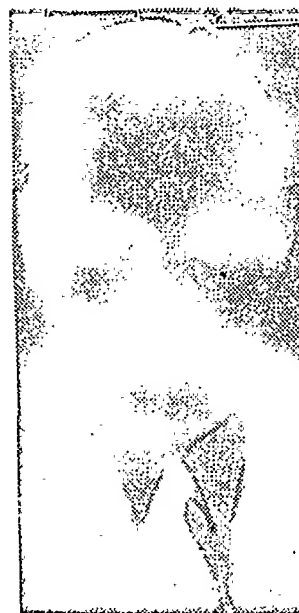

After two years of teaching, he joined the Pennsylvania Department of Public Assistance, where his main duty was investigating suspected frauds.

He spent seven years with the department before joining the F.B.I. "I always liked investigative work, and had had great admiration for the bureau and its role in American life and for the leadership of J. Edgar Hoover," Mr. Malone said yesterday.

Assigned to Buffalo

He was assigned to Buffalo in 1942, but in about three months he was reassigned to New York City. The next year he married the former Margaret Gilhool, whom he had met in Carbondale.

He served as an agent here for five years, then taught at the F.B.I. training school at Quantico, Va. He moved into the supervisory capacity in 1950 when he became a part of the Washington office. Mr. Malone took charge of his first regional office in San Diego the same year. He later served in Los Angeles and Chicago, and came here five years ago. He likes it here, although he once noted that New York posed a special problem when the F.B.I. sought to apprehend bank robbers because robbers found it so easy to disappear into crowds of the subway here.

His faith in the bureau is unswerving.

b1 This is informative memorandum to advise you of substantial progress made by New York Office in developing live sources to afford us coverage of present Chinese communist group [REDACTED]

(S) [REDACTED]
There are currently approximately 200 ethnic Chinese [REDACTED] including some 30

(S) individuals we have identified as pro-Chinese communists. A number of this pro-Chicom clique travel periodically to the Chinese mainland on home leave or are [REDACTED] during visits to Europe. Investigation has clearly shown that several of them are [REDACTED]

b1 With our approval, New York Office has made a concerted effort during the past year to increase informant coverage of the pro-Chicom group [REDACTED] and New York has done a fine job in this respect. During 1967 five additional security informants reporting on [REDACTED] were developed by New York, giving us a current total of 13 such security informants. In addition, during the past year we were able to develop 12 potential security informants who afford us coverage of subjects of interest among [REDACTED]. Not only are these informants and potential security informants producing very valuable information at the present time concerning key Chicom subjects [REDACTED] but they will be doubly valuable in the event of eventual admission of Communist China [REDACTED]

(U) New York's efforts in this respect are noteworthy particularly in view of the difficulties which have traditionally been encountered (not only by the Bureau but other intelligence agencies) in developing quality source coverage among ethnic Chinese. [REDACTED]

INSTRUCTIONS TO EMPLOYING AGENCY

1. Who must file.—All employees not excluded by law or regulation from insurance coverage, including those who have previously waived coverage, are required to complete and file Standard Form 176-T. Employees who are in the service on February 14, 1968, as well as those who are appointed after that date but before April 14, 1968, must file the form.
2. Automatic cancellation of previously filed waivers.—All "Waivers of Life Insurance Coverage" (SF 53) on file are automatically canceled as of the first day of the first pay period beginning on or after February 14, 1968. Payroll offices are to begin regular insurance deductions on the automatic cancellation date for employees who do not file a new waiver, i.e., those who do not check box C of SF 176-T, on or before that date.
3. Employees failing to file.—If an employee does not return a completed SF 176-T, contact him and urge him to do so even if he does not want optional insurance (he will, of course, be automatically covered for regular insurance). If he still fails to file SF 176-T by April 14, 1968, or 31 days after appointment, whichever is later, file one for him as of that date: mark box B, and note in the space provided for his signature "employee contacted—failed to elect optional insurance." See note 2 below.
4. Review of completed forms.—(a) Review both copies of the SF 176-T for legibility, completeness, and consistency. Reconcile with the employee any obvious major discrepancy such as a mark in more than one box.

(b) If the employee marked box A or box C, make sure the Statistical Stub is complete. Then detach and mail stubs, in a bundle, weekly to:

Office of Federal Employees' Group Life Insurance
(Statistical Study)
4 East 24th Street
New York, New York 10010

(c) If the employee marked box B, detach and destroy the stub.

5. Date of receipt and effective date.—(a) Stamp date of receipt by employing office in the space provided for this purpose on both the Original and the Duplicate.
(b) The effective date is determined from the table below.
6. Disposition of forms.—(a) File the Original SF 176-T in the official personnel folder in all cases.
(b) Any necessary payroll change, with effective date, may be posted in the space reserved on the Duplicate for employing office.
(c) The Duplicate may be destroyed, if no payroll action is required, or after the requirements of the agency's payroll system have been met.
7. Use of SF 176-T.—SF 176-T "Election, Declination, or Waiver of Life Insurance Coverage" should not be used after the initial filing period (after April 14, 1968). A revised edition will be available for use after that date.

DATE SF 176-T RECEIVED BY EMPLOYING OFFICE	EMPLOYEE'S DECISION	EFFECTIVE DATE (IF NO WAIVER, SF 53, IN EFFECT)
		OF DECISION	OF DEDUCTIONS
On or before February 14, 1968.	Elects optional (in addition to regular) (box A).	Coverage effective February 14, 1968.	Deductions begin 1st day of 1st pay period beginning on or after February 14, 1968.
	Declines optional (but not regular) (box B).	Declination effective February 14, 1968.
	Waives regular (so ineligible for optional) (box C).	Waiver effective last day of pay period in which February 14, 1968 falls.	Deductions stop last day of pay period in which February 14, 1968 falls.
After February 14 but not later than April 14, 1968.	Elects optional (in addition to regular) (box A).	Coverage effective on date of receipt.	Deductions begin 1st day of 1st pay period beginning on or after date of receipt.
	Declines optional (but not regular) (box B).	Declination effective on date of receipt, but employee loses automatic optional protection on February 14, 1968.
	Cancels previously elected optional (but not regular) (box B).	Cancellation effective last day of pay period in which received.	Deductions for optional stop last day of pay period in which received.
	Waives regular (so ineligible for optional) (box C).	Waiver effective last day of pay period in which received.	Deductions stop last day of pay period in which received.

- NOTES: 1. Because regular insurance coverage and deductions are automatic unless waived (by checking box C), A and B elections do not affect regular insurance effective dates.
2. An employee for whom the agency files SF 176-T because he failed to file is deemed to have declined optional, but not regular, insurance.
3. An employee with an uncanceled waiver (SF 53) on file cannot be insured any earlier than the first day he is in duty and pay status in a pay period beginning on or after February 14, 1968; filing of an SF 176-T before that date will not cancel an SF-53 any earlier. Deductions begin the day he becomes insured.
4. The effective date of regular (and optional) insurance coverage for an employee who has been on leave without pay for more than 1 year is the first day he is in pay and duty status. Deductions are effective the same day.

PERSONAL ATTENTION

Mr. John F. Malone
Federal Bureau of Investigation
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Malone:

After reviewing the results of the recent inspection of the New York Office, I have approved the following ratings for your operations: Physical Condition and Maintenance, Investigative Operations, Administrative Operations, Personnel Matters and Applicant Recruitment Matters - Very Good; Contacts - Excellent.

Your office space, including that of the Resident Agencies, was found to be secure and generally well maintained. The decentralization of your pending files and other internal organizational changes since the last inspection were described as beneficial. Continue efforts to secure suitable automotive storage facilities at the Babylon, Garden City and Monticello Resident Agencies. The age and heavy usage of your automobile fleet demand more careful attention to operating and repair costs which have increased slightly since the last inspection.

In no area am I more concerned than that involving racial matters. Since New York City is the hub of the black power movement and the potential for violence appears very great, our grave responsibilities in this field cannot be overlooked for one moment. Regardless of the fact that your racial informant coverage has substantially increased, I am not at all convinced that sufficient efforts and ingenuity have been devoted to this problem. In addition to implementing the Inspector's instructions that twenty-five additional Agents are to be diverted to investigating racial matters for the next four months, I want it clearly understood that every Agent in the New York Office must fully share the responsibility for meeting our obligations in this most sensitive area, while at the same time handling other vital programs. Your aggressive personal leadership in this connection is absolutely essential.

I am pleased that in the current fiscal year to date you are ahead of last year's record in three categories of statistical accomplishments; however,

- 1- Mr. Callahan (Att: Mr. J. B. Adams) (With Enclosure)
- 1 - SOG Inspection File of New York Office

SEE NOTE PAGE THREE

DUPLICATE YELLOW

there is a deficit of twenty-five percent in convictions. Realizing that you have a backlog of over 1,000 defendants awaiting prosecutive action, you must aggressively follow these cases to insure they are being placed on court dockets at the earliest possible time.

I am dissatisfied with the continued above-average delinquency of the New York Office and the below-average case closings per Agent. With an ever-increasing case load and a field-wide shortage of Agents, it is imperative that every possible streamlining device be utilized to achieve maximum effective use of manpower. The above-average missed civil rights and fugitive deadlines, as well as the substantive errors detected during the inspection, pinpoint other areas which need closer supervisory attention.

While your bank robbery solution rate has improved considerably since the last inspection, the Inspector's instructions and suggestions must be aggressively implemented and unrelenting supervisory and investigative attention given the 102 pending unsolved violations.

Your Criminal Intelligence and Interstate Gambling Activities Programs were rated excellent. You can take justifiable pride in the fact that your conviction accomplishments in this field have reached an all-time high for your office in the current fiscal year. The cases still awaiting prosecutive action should be vigorously followed.

(U) Your Criminal and Security Informant Programs were rated very good. The increased membership and activities of the Progressive Labor Party and the Students for a Democratic Society demand additional quality informant coverage. The Inspector took cognizance of your achievements in advancing sources within the Communist Party and in the promptness and excellence with which you covered the numerous antiwar and antidraft demonstrations. [Similarly, the aggressive programs you have instituted to afford coverage of Soviet-bloc espionage activities are noteworthy; however, further in-depth penetration is required.] Insure that the streamlining procedures and techniques recommended by the Inspector are promptly implemented. (S)

I was pleased to know that your Chief Clerk's Office is functioning in a generally efficient manner. Project work, although reduced since the last inspection, is still too high and must be further reduced consistent with the availability of employees. Delays noted in the preparation of bulky exhibit green sheets, as well as the indexing weaknesses noted on the part of Special Agents, must be eliminated.

Mr. John F. Malone

I also observed that while your stenographic work is current and your retypes low, stenographic productivity continues to be below average. Every effort should be made to continue the upward trend in productivity achieved in recent months.

Of concern are the increase in the number of errors in daily reports and Number Three (Locator) Cards since the last inspection, and the continued excessive time spent by Agents in the office. Certainly a reduction could be achieved in these areas with increased supervisory attention.

The Inspector concluded that your previously authorized quota of 956 Agents and 558 clerical employees is still appropriate to the needs of your office, based on the current work load of New York. As you were advised by the Inspector, this does not mean that you have a permanently fixed Agent complement, either for the entire office or the Divisions within the office. It does mean that adjustments will be necessary to meet the changing needs, not only of the New York Office but of the entire Bureau. It also means you have a compelling responsibility to make the most judicious use of Agents now assigned, or who may be assigned to your office.

Your productive efforts in recruiting Agent applicants are gratifying. As to the recruitment of clerical personnel for the Seat of Government, during the past year New York recruited 76 as compared to a quota of 80; however, your monthly quota has not been met regularly during the off-season months. Recognizing the highly competitive labor market in New York, it remains mandatory that all employees of your office redouble their efforts to secure qualified employees for the Seat of Government on a continuing basis.

I was gratified to note that you are cognizant of the importance of quality public appearances and good relations with the various news media.

You and the Special Agents in Charge must carefully study the inspection findings. Advise the Bureau within thirty days of the corrective action taken to comply with the Inspector's instructions.

Sincerely yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

 Re: Inspection - New York Office

DETAILS

PHYSICAL CONDITION AND MAINTENANCE . . . . .

Office continues to occupy convenient, secure, generally well-maintained commercial space in residential Manhattan. Minor but beneficial organizational changes made since last inspection. Serials found in 1 Agent's desk contrary to regulations (handled separately). Resident agencies occupy suitable and secure space. 30 of 150 cars inspected -- no safety defects. Headquarters storage secure; suitable storage needed at 3 resident agencies -- instructed to continue efforts to obtain. 10 automobile accidents in 4 months since last inspection -- 1 employee held responsible, compared with 21 accidents in 13 months prior to last inspection in which 3 employees held responsible. Operating and repair costs up slightly since last inspection and just over field average -- due to age of cars and heavy usage. Adequacy of fleet under continuing study.

INVESTIGATIVE OPERATIONS . . . . .

Racial situation relatively quiet but latently volatile. Riots in Harlem after murder of Martin Luther King, Jr., resulted in 1 death, 70 injuries, 425 arrests. New York City is hot of black power movement. Racial informant coverage substantially improved (21 informants, 3 potential informants and 103 sources added since last inspection) but additional coverage urgently needed. Reassignment of 25 additional Agents from other duties to racial matters for next 4 months ordered (handled separately).

4/57/60 case load 17,003 (13,137 active); substantially up from last inspection - 16,156 (13,179 active). Delinquency consistently above average, and case load and case closings per Agent consistently below average. Statistical accomplishments for first 10 months fiscal year (FY) 1960 up in 3 categories, down 25 in convictions due to crowded dockets and shortage of judges (Attorney General has been advised). Backlog of over 1,000 cases awaiting prosecution. 11 quantitative errors detected -- below field average (handled separately). 5% of bank robberies since last inspection solved (last inspection 45%) and overall solution rate up from 51 to 52%. 102 violations remain unsolved. Specific action recommended to further improve solutions. Criminal Intelligence and Interstate Gambling Activities programs rated excellent -- 10 of estimated 1200 La Cosa Nostra members identified; 10 members are informants. 12 anti-gambling and anti-racketeering convictions FY 1959 to date (all-time high for New York) and 30 prosecutions pending. Criminal and Security Informant programs rated very good. 703 of estimated 800 Communist Party members identified; 40 are informants. Increased membership and activities of Progressive Labor Party and Students for a Democratic Society demand additional attention -- ordered. Soviet and

Memorandum for Mr. Tolson
Re: Inspection - New York Office

- (U) Other foreign intelligence activities aggressively investigated and further in-depth penetration stressed. Procedures and streamlining techniques recommended such as possible application of voice identification in espionage cases and elimination of certain wasteful investigative steps in security cases. Delays in submitting security informant progress letters and practice of unnecessary motor vehicle record check is ordered corrected. Missed applicant deadlines below average, alleged civil rights and fugitive headlines slightly above.

ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATION . . . . . VERY GOOD

Work load equitably aligned among 97 supervisory desks including Assistant Director and 4 SACs. Chief Clerk's Office generally efficient with pending files decentralized since last inspection. Pending work up due to personnel shortage; project work reduced but still too high -- further reduction ordered. Copy errors approximate field average; misfiled index cards well below. Delays in preparation of bulky exhibit forms and indexing weaknesses detected -- ordered eliminated. Stenographic work current; retypes low; productivity below average but climbing. Investigative clerks and similar employees closely supervised. Errors in daily reports and locator cards slightly up since last inspection -- fringe benefits not affected. Time in office continues to be excessive -- reduction ordered. Overhead equitably shared, essential, productive.

PERSONNEL MATTERS . . . . . VERY GOOD

5/3/54 complement 1431 (932 Agents, 499 clerks). Previously authorized complement of 1514 (950 Agents and 564 clerks) still considered requisite but not excessive -- balance agrees. Present clerk-Agent ratio (54:1) and last projected upon filling vacancies (55:1) well below average (64:1). Office currently 24 Agents under approved strength -- to be brought up to quota when Agents are available. Also 17 clerks under authorized complement due to tight labor market -- instructed to expedite efforts to fill vacancies. No male employees overweight and no Agents unavailable. One Agent on probation and 4 on limited duty -- retention justified. Exceptionally fine performance of a rotor clerk noted during inspection (commendation approved separately). Morale appears excellent.

RECRUITING AND RECRUITMENT . . . . . VERY GOOD

11 Agents recruited and accepted in 7 months since last inspection is excellent record. During past year, 10 clerical employees recruited (quota 10), although quota not met in the 5 off-season months. Adversely competitive labor market makes it difficult to build up backlog of available clerks. Greater participation in recruiting by all employees stressed.

Dear Mr. Malone:

According to Bureau records, Time Spent in Office by Agents (TIO) was 24.1% in May, 24.3% in April, and 25.7% in March. This indicates a desirable downward trend. You and your supervisory staff should make every effort to insure that this trend continues and that TIO is kept to a minimum in your Division.

A review of information forwarded by your office in response to a Departmental request in January, 1968, for an electronic surveillance check regarding [redacted] [redacted] discloses that you failed to make a complete and thorough search of your records. A second request for a review of electronic surveillance records with respect to [redacted] establishes your original review was incomplete.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Along the way during 34 years experience in the field of law enforcement, including time served in the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office, United States Naval Intelligence, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and presently the Suffolk County Police Department, I have some thoughts which I would like to pass along to you for your consideration.

1. In reference to recruiting men to become police officers, I believe that many good men have been lost due to the present system of working around the clock. It is my feeling, especially in view of the present trend on the part of police officers pursuing courses in higher education, that some sort of survey be undertaken to investigate the possibility of keeping a man on the 8 to 4 tour, 4 to 12 tour, or 12 to 8 tour on a permanent basis, thereby enabling him to make plans to attend school either in the day or night to obtain a degree. This could probably be accomplished under the Safe Street bill.
2. Whereas the police are constantly being trained in new methods and procedures, it appears to me that there is very little training of prosecutors and judges of the criminal courts, in particular those judges of the inferior courts, who appear to be mainly concerned about being overruled on appeal.
3. As to disturbances, demonstrations, and security of visiting dignitaries, which necessitate assigning increased police personnel, I would like to have all law enforcement agencies involved publish the cost of same, as to overtime pay, etc., thereby letting the public know how costly the demonstrations, disturbances and security precautions are to them.

4. Recently, more and more police departments are putting police officers on the street, in addition to the radio cars. I believe this is in the right direction. It gives the police officer the opportunity to stop and talk with the citizen, look in through the door and say hello to the shopkeeper, and above all, to come into contact with the public, and possibly explain under what restrictions and prohibitions he is required to work under today, due to recent court decisions. One of the principal sources of contact that the police have with the public is relative to Vehicle & Traffic violations, but, unfortunately, they seldom are in a position to make friends and improve their image.
5. Police departments, I believe, may possibly give added emphasis to crime prevention. It seems to me that the police and public must be brought closer together, and above all, respect for law and order must be restored.

In conclusion, I believe the police should make every effort to present their side of the story to the public, and to point out that although they may be in sympathy with some demonstrators, they cannot permit them to attempt to attain their goals if unlawful means or violence are used.

POLICE LABORATORY AND MOBILE LABORATORY
TECHNIQUE

By

Arnold Dihrberg, D/Sgt., Police Laboratory

and
Bernard Newman, PhD, Director, Police Laboratory
Police Department, County of Suffolk, N. Y.

A properly equipped and staffed scientific laboratory is a recent addition to the armament of the police officer. At the same time, proper utilization must be made of the laboratory's facilities in order for the team effort of policeman and scientific expert to function at a maximum.

An important adjunct to the solution of crime is the examination and interpretation of various bits of evidence. It should be apparent that the result of such examination will be only as good as the evidence submitted. If evidence is mistreated before submission for examination, the examination is useless.

In January of last year, President Johnson said in his "State of the Union" address that a greater emphasis on better crime investigating methods must be made. Couple this idea with the recent Supreme Court decisions vitally affecting Police investigations, and any aid that will assist the field investigator must be utilized. Therefore, increasing the role of the mobile evidence technician will be one of the best means of aiding the field man.

Several of the large metropolitan Police Departments, such as New York City and Chicago, already have mobile units available twenty-four hours per day. The Supreme Court decisions were brought about mainly by court cases involving small Police Departments, not the larger, more sophisticated Departments. The developing of mobile evidence technicians as a necessary unit would cause a modernization of any Department because of the introduction of basic scientific principles. George P. Monaghan, former Police Commissioner, City of New York, said, "The most striking change Science will have on Police work, will be in the manner in which police collect and examine physical evidence." This introduction was written 15 years ago and only a few agencies were alert enough to heed the warning. Now, there is no choice. Evidence technicians are a must, and advantage of this unit must be taken.

Most of the investigator's time is spent conducting interviews. Unfortunately, many field men have much of their time taken up with routine crime searches. Dusting for prints, taking photographs, and looking for other evidence will take up a lot of time at a most crucial period, the inception of the investigation.

At the scene of the crime, the evidence technician will often be required to make quick judgements. For example, his opinion will be requested concerning the possibility of certain stains being blood or semen. These decisions could be of extreme importance at the onset of an investigation. The investigator is not trained to perform any such preliminary field tests, while the technician with relatively few chemicals, can make such tests and arrive at a fairly accurate decision.

It is necessary, then, that a mobile unit be equipped for making preliminary analyses and it also should have equipment for collecting and preserving evidence at a scene. For example, fresh whole blood can reveal a great deal of information, while a dried blood stain reveals a limited amount of data. A trained technician can remove such evidence and keep it free from contamination. We would have no such assurance with the average investigator.

The well-trained technician can make valuable suggestions to the field investigator, especially if the technician has made many crime scene searches. The technician can thus act as an additional training tool for his department in an extremely important area, the actual crime scene. The average detective has merely a limited knowledge on trace evidence, such as hair, fibers, etc. Having a technician indicate the value of this evidence at the onset of the investigation and then after such evidence has proved its value in a court conviction, the detective will see the practical results and benefits of such minute bits of evidence when examined at the laboratory later. After several such successes, the technician will be welcomed at a crime scene.

Using the technician at the crime scene will materially reduce the number of people in the chain of evidence. Since the technician is on the scene almost from the beginning of the investigation, the preservation, collection and subsequent transporting of evidence to the laboratory can all be done by him, taking another responsibility off the shoulders of the field investigator. The marking and labelling of evidence can be done at the direction of the field investigator but under the supervision of the technician so that this identifying of evidence, regardless of the means used, will not hinder future analysis. Too many times, the integrity of an item of evidence is destroyed by improper marking.

Constant exposure to the investigation of crime scenes, under a variety of conditions, will soon render the astute mobile technician expert; and the technician has an advantage over the investigator in that in searching a scene for evidence, experience is the best teacher. Since the technician is not responsible for any other phase of an investigation, he can devote his complete attention to the crime scene. This single-mindedness is a definite asset. The investigator has a multiplicity of duties that should be accomplished in the shortest possible time. The technician is free from this burden of responsibility.

Another advantage of the mobile evidence technician unit would be in associating similar crime scenes to one another. Since most Police Departments are broken down into Precinct areas, the mobile unit could be a connecting link among these areas. For example, the method of operation of a successful safe burglar will be similar at each scene. The technician will quickly see this similarity and relate this information to the interested squads. The technician can also hold the evidence from the various scenes for future comparison and when the criminal is apprehended, trace evidence from several scenes can be found and used against the defendant.

The role of the mobile unit will grow more important as time goes on. With experience and constant training, the technicians can make improvements on their own techniques, thereby furthering the advance of investigation. As new scientific instruments become available, the technician can adopt these advances to his use. An example of such an instrument is the "Hydro-carbon" detector. This device is taken to the scene of an arson and is used to detect the origin of the fire by measuring the volatility of hydro-carbons being given off by the material at the scene. This relatively new instrument eliminates the guess work that heretofore has been done in gathering arson evidence.

At the same time, one should not lose sight of the fact that any investigator, whether at a crime scene or not, is encouraged to submit evidence to the laboratory for examination or advice, at any hour of the day or night.

We can see that using a mobile technician's unit can be of inestimable value to any police agency. The saving of time to a field investigator is of utmost importance. The improvement in the collection and preservation of evidence is another important aid. Thus, these two advantages will give peace of mind and more assurance to an investigator and hopefully will spur him on to greater efforts in his phases of investigation.

During World War II, Mr. Caputo commanded a unit in China which trained and operated with guerrillas behind Japanese lines. He achieved the rank of Commander, U.S. Naval Reserve. In this article, Mr. Caputo exhibits his keen sense of humor - while driving home the difficulty of functioning as a modern-day law enforcement agent.*

I have a friend named Joe. He isn't very bright. As a matter of fact, he was in the 8th Grade so long that his teacher finally decided to marry him even though he was a lot older than she was. She wanted to make sure too, that he didn't take his shoes off when he counted past ten.

As I say Joe, is a quite stupid guy and some of the questions he asks, especially those pertaining to law enforcement, are quite ridiculous.

For instance, Joe is too stupid to understand those Supreme Court decisions, which are quite simple. Joe can't understand how a guy who kills five people and admits to it, taking the detectives to the scene of the crime and re-enacting the crime, then showing where the murder weapon is, walks out free because a policeman failed to tell the man that he had the right to counsel. Imagine Joe not being intelligent enough to understand such a basic decision that no matter what a man confesses to, no matter how heinous the crime, he walks out into the sunlight if he isn't told about this warning that he knew when he was stealing erasers in kindergarten.

Another silly question that Joe asks is how come a flock of mad people can jump up and down on parked cars that belong to other people; rob and beat up old men who sell frankfurters; attack women; and all this in front of the policemen who are outnumbered say about 500 to 1 and are told not to carry nightsticks in order not to hurt the psyches of those ramping, raving, rioting kids. Why, Joe wants to know, weren't enough cops ordered to the fiasco ahead of time? Why weren't they allowed to carry nightsticks? How come only a handful were arrested? If Joe doesn't have the silliest questions, I'll eat my grandfather's hat, the one he wore in Calabria when he got married.

Joe, of course, as a further indication of his really one-cylinder brain asked me the other day why people get arrested for taking photographs in the subway? I told him maybe we were going to convert the subway into a guided missile center in case of war. Joe shook his head and said maybe I was right. But then he wanted to know why people get arrested for taking newspapers out of the trash cans. I was real angry at this one. I said what would happen if everybody took second hand papers from the trash cans and didn't buy a fresh one? Joe agreed with that. But, then he came up with another paranoic question by asking me which was worse? Smashing cars down at City Hall, for which no arrests were made or taking a newspaper out of a trash can? I was too angry to answer that one. How stupid can one man really be?

Joe topped off these questions with an incident that happened to him not too far back. He was reading that when people go around assassinating important public figures, they aren't really to blame. That Society should take the rap for what they did. So, Joe went through a red light and within minutes he was stopped by a radio car. Joe felt that he could offer an explanation which might get him off from being given a ticket. So he told the policeman that he doesn't like red lights, that Society is to blame for putting up the red lights and that Society should pay for the ticket. Well, they carted Joe away and he was up against a psychologist who wanted to know what Joe had against red lights. Joe said his father had a red nose and this created an image that remained with him to this day. Joe is now 65 years old. The psychologist said that blaming Society was all right for big crimes but not small violations.

Joe wanted to know if he committed a crime which he didn't know was a crime could he be held for that crime? I said of course. That ignorance of the law was no excuse. Then Joe's face took on the look of a cunning bear and he asked me how he could be held accountable for a crime that he didn't know was a crime. I said again, ignorance is no excuse. And at this point Joe got real hot. He said we have to explain to criminals who can recite the law better than the Supreme Court kids that they are entitled to counsel, don't have to answer questions, and all that jazz, and that the poor harried cops have to make sure they give them the Constitutional warning even when they know that the criminals know the warning. But, Joe insisted, the poor citizen better make sure that he knows all the laws that were ever written because if he violates even one tiny one, such as walking a cow down Main Street on a Sunday Afternoon before sunset, he can be arrested. What kind of law is this, Joe asks in his ponderous, senseless way.

How can I answer this idiot who really doesn't understand that the poor criminal is entitled to every break possible? That even the papers can't say a man committed the crime even though the newspapermen were there with cameras and took shots of the crime, as it was happening; that they have to say the "alleged" criminal even though the alleged criminal's bullet went right through the lens of the camera and flattened the cameraman?

I'm glad I don't have too many friends like Joe. I wouldn't be able to put up with all that stupidity, not for too long.

NEW JERSEY LOOKS IN THE DIRECTION OF POLICE CADET UTILIZATION

By

Thomas F. Coon

About the Author:

Mr. Coon is a former Supervisory Special Agent with the Office of Naval Intelligence. He serves on the Editorial Advisory Boards of POLICE, EXCERPTA CRIMINOLOGICA, and POLICE TIMES. Mr. Coon is the past N.J. State President of the National Police Officers Association of America and currently serves as National Vice President of the American Federation of Police. He also serves on the Lay Board of Directors of the Bergen County Catholic Youth Organization. This article recently appeared in POLICE, the Charles Thomas Publication. Thanks are extended to Attorney General Arthur J. Sills and Mr. O.W. Wilson for furnishing information for this article.

In October of 1967, Governor Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey proposed recruitment of civilians in police departments to free police from "routine tasks" and thereby enable them to better protect the public. In a speech prepared for the National Conference on Legislative Leadership, he tied in the concept of civilian police aides and the development of police cadet corps which could, he said, relieve much of the growing burden placed upon the professional police officers.

Back in April of 1967, Arthur J. Sills, Attorney General of New Jersey, first projected the desirability of utilizing police cadets in connection with New Jersey police work. At the dedication of the new Bergen County, New Jersey, Police and Fire Academy, Attorney General Sills proposed a three level concept of police work. He suggested that police work be divided into three categories, having different salary ranges. There would be a uniformed but un-armed cadet group hired right out of high school at age 18, regular police to perform patrol and traffic duties, and a corps of specialists. For this specialist group, Mr. Sills suggested that applicants complete at least two years of college - preferably four. The starting pay for this group, he proposed, should be $10,000.

The cadet would be expected to perform community service and typical cadet-type functions. Mr. Sills called attention to the successful utilization of such a system by the Chicago Police Department. The second level of police officer would be expected to have a high school diploma and a capacity for college work. He would perform the type of functions which occupy most of the time of local police personnel today - patrols, rendering emergency services and enforcing traffic laws, etc. The third level of police officer would perform the most complicated, most sensitive and most demanding police jobs. He would be required to have at least two years of college work and preferably a Baccalaureate Degree in the Liberal Arts or Sciences. Mr. Sills mentioned that this lateral entry into police work could enable the recruitment of talent from other fields and other law enforcement agencies, when necessary, by providing rank and compensation befitting the service performed. Any person who came in under any level could succeed to a higher level through training thereby increasing his professionalization and earning capacity.

Governor Hughes is apparently pushing hard for a program of police cadet utilization - and the probability is great that he will achieve it before he leaves office at the end of his second term. Mandatory police training, establishment of a police science course at Rutgers University, and a Uniform Crime Reporting System are just a few of the law enforcement objectives he stated - and then achieved. We might, therefore, look a little closely at this concept of police cadet programs for here we have the objective of establishing such a program throughout most of a state, if not the entire state.

The concept of a police cadet program had its origin in England around about 1935. The first such program established in America was in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in 1952. Pasadena, California, initiated a cadet program in January, 1954, and has the honor of maintaining one of the oldest established cadet programs in thriving Southern California. Many other cities have since experimented with or are currently conducting cadet programs, including the world's most famous police department - New York City.

Just what is the purpose of these programs? From an economic standpoint, the cadet program affords an excellent opportunity to release trained policemen from clerical duties and get them out into the field where they are most needed. It is a thing of dollars and cents. A police cadet can discharge for less money these clerical duties generally done by experienced, highly trained police officers. At the same time, the cadet is getting his feet in the door learning about police work so that he will be well along the road when he reaches age 21 and enters the department as a full-fledge member.

Additionally, the police departments have the opportunity to attract young men who are physically, mentally, and morally qualified for such work before they venture out into the world between the ages of 18 and 21. Without such cadet programs, many young men who have their hearts set on police work venture out into the world to earn a living between ages 18 and 21, lose their interest in police work or progress so well on their interlude jobs that they just can not afford to return to police work. Under the cadet program, too, there is the most unusual opportunity to improve and professionalize law enforcement personnel since the requirement to attend police science courses and work toward a college degree should be an integral part of such programs. Thus, a police cadet can rather painlessly earn sufficient college credits for a junior college Associate in Arts degree or he can be well along the way toward a degree by the time he is 21 and becomes eligible for acceptance as a police officer.

Salaries of police cadets are generally most attractive. Cadets may serve as full-time employees or as part-time employees of the municipality. The Chicago Police Department starts the cadet at $4,296 per annum. He can work himself up to $4,968 during the next three and one half years. Part-time cadets start at $2.06 per hour and work themselves up to $2.39 per hour. Experience shows that most departments have entrance salaries that range around $350 to $380 per month for an 8 hour day. Salaries for cadets are about $200 less per month than the starting pay for regular officers. Ultimately, many cadets achieve a monthly salary ranging as high as $450 per month. Fringe benefits are also included in these programs embracing paid holidays, sick days and two weeks vacation with pay each year.

The duties of police cadets are generally of the clerical nature. A little thought will reveal the type functions they can and do perform such as operate the various radio, telephone, teletype and other means of communications; work upon records; type; carry messages and others. These are the very type functions which indeed waste the endless hours of trained police officers. Sergeant Edward Roehrick, Cadet Coordinator of the Personnel Division, Chicago Police Department, described to me the duties performed by cadets assigned to the Chicago Police Department. He said, "Immediately following the initial training, cadets are assigned to on-the-job training positions throughout the department. These are established positions which are not specifically created for cadets. In many instances, cadets are performing duties which were formerly handled by patrolmen who have been relieved by cadets for active duty in the field. Cadets are rotated among duty assignments on a planned schedule designed to provide them with experience and training in units of the Bureaus of Field, Staff, and Inspectional Services. This relieving of the patrolman for more important duties is the kind of thing Governor Hughes is talking about.

However, before the cadet is given any assignment, he is required to attend a two week training course conducted by the Chicago Police Academy. This very important initial training program includes the following diversified subjects:

- City Orientation
- District Desk Duties
- Field Reporting Manual
- Hot Desk Operations
- Legal Terminology
- Report Writing
- Rules and Regulations
- Safe Driving
- Telephone Courtesy
- Department Forms
- Discipline
- First-aid
- Legal Forms and Complaints
- Police Courtesy
- Roll Call Procedures
- Safe Handling of Firearms
- State and Local Government
- Statements
- Time and Attendance Records

A highly diversified training? Yes indeed!! In fact, it is a good deal more training than many police officers receive upon initial appointment in states where preliminary police training is not mandatory.

Each year, cadets are required to return to the police Academy for a one week refresher training course which includes a review of training activities during the past year together with subjects which have been incorporated into the course as the result of recommendations for additional training needs as expressed by supervisors of cadet personnel.

Sergeant Roehrick commented that thirty-six police cadets were recently participants in a training program at the Police Academy designed to equip them for assignment as Community Service Officers in selected police districts. The cadets were assigned under the supervision of a Community Service Sergeant and assigned to the following:

1. Notify complainants of action taken whenever a referral has been made.
2. Maintain close contact with youths in the neighborhood where they are assigned.
3. Devote duty time to performing street services and investigations which the beat officer would do if he had time to leave his vehicle.
4. Cooperate with beat officers in matters of community service.

Governor Hughes is not the only one who is thinking seriously and properly about this need for establishing cadet programs. The Task Force on the Police, The President's Commission On Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, also had some important commentaries on the subject. The Task Force recommended the following. "Because of the immediacy of the recruitment problem and of the urgent need for college graduates in law enforcement, special financial incentives should be offered to persons who desire to complete their education and pursue careers in the police service. For example, under the National Defense Act of 1965, the Federal Government is currently providing loans to college students. Under this act, 50 percent of a loan is forgiven if a student becomes a full-time teacher in an elementary or secondary school or in an institution of higher education. This act should be amended to apply also to students entering the police service. As a supplement to this act, State or local governments could also provide student loans which would be partially or totally forgiven over a period of years if students enter police departments within that jurisdiction. "

O. W. Wilson of the Chicago Police Department and others have given this police cadet program a big shove in the right direction. Governor Hughes of New Jersey is now pressing for wide application in his state - and the President's Task Force has offered some cogent thinking in the area of future direction of such programs. It is very apparent that the police cadet program is going to be with us in increasing proportion during the coming years. Such programs will indeed contribute immeasurably to the most sought after professionalization of police work - long the goal of career enforcement men.

Mr. LiBrandi is an Investigative Aide with the Postal Inspectors Office, Brooklyn, New York. He is a member of the Editorial Staff of THE BULLETIN. Mr. LiBrandi touches upon an infrequently treated subject - the propensity of women to engage in crime, during recent years. As befits his subject, he treats them gently and with delicate humor.

The oddity is that the further away the woman moves from the kitchen, the nearer she is to getting "burned."

Another oddity is that within these pages of propriety and professionalism we have yet to concern ourselves with women; women in crime, that is; ...women in situations involving criminal or deviant behavior.

Our fair ladies have always been active in the affairs of society either as rulers in fact, or as factotum behind the throne. But the widespread increase in the areas that heretofore have been the predominant domain of men has created a new breed of woman: one who is now afflicted with the same deviant behavior formerly identified with the male of the species.

Women also turn to crime, become murderers, instigators of and accomplices to murder, as well as other crimes. They too become delinquent, dissipated, drunkards, and thieves. But beyond noting their act or delinquency there has been a failure to explain their criminality.

As with mothers-in-law the male reader can conjure up a cage full of witty remarks about this subject (and I've conjured up my share!), but notwithstanding the levity, Delinquent Women is an important and proper field of study for our professional interest.

Very often these days, and nights, Cherchez la femme is more than a romantic pursuit; it represents the path of an alert sleuth. The Sherlock Holmes in our crowd, as well as the Don Juan, never loses sight of the "woman in the case." Yet the Case of Women in Crime and Delinquency has escaped the microscopic eye of social and police scientists...and the feminine mystique remains as elusive to the criminologist as it has been to man himself since Adam chased Eve.

Of the many faces of Eve, this inquiring spectator has tried to focus his curiosity on (a) the apparent increase in the incidence of her criminal or deviant behavior, and (b) whether the characteristics of this type behavior are markedly different from those of men.

Adam's Eve had nothing, but today's mini-skirted female has derived a tank full of benefits from the social changes won by her bloomer-clad grandma. It is no shock in modern society to find our women in the mainstream of community, business, educational and political life. And modern man frankly admits that there has been a very real liberation of women from ignorance, drudgery, and yes, confinement (in the home); but, unfortunately, the women who left the coop have come to experience the same frustrations and temptations that drove their menfolk to drink, and to... well, ...to do other illegal and immoral things!

More women suffrage has meant more women suffering with social ills. More sophistication and greater opportunities have stimulated women towards a new equality: in the standings for criminal and deviant behavior! For several decades the female's proportion in almost all types of crime has increased, ...and in one area she's got it all sewed up ... shoplifting!!

Embezzlement and fraud, once virtually a male monopoly, has become a working girl's best friend. Armed robbery, the criminal's he-man crime, is becoming a Bonnie and Clyde affair, with the Bonnie of our day participating as a "wheeler" or "lookout." However, women still are less likely than men to commit burglary and auto theft.

Some women have regarded women's rights as a blanket (??) release from previous standards of propriety and legality. They have expressed this freedom more easily in the area of sexual conduct. And the bare facts show that as standards of chastity relaxed, a corresponding increase appeared in the number of commercial prostitutes and in the incidence of other illicit sex practices. How much of this increase is due to tighter enforcement or to some other reason has not been uncovered.

Home technology and the baby sitter have nearly eliminated all household chores and have offered our emancipated women more leisure and less concern for the care of home and child. This circumstance, with or without the ever-present temptation for "status" and cash income, may account for certain kinds of female delinquency, such as alcoholism, drug addiction, prostitution, or some other convenient enterprise. When 24 housewives were arrested for operating illegal telephone answering services in their homes for bookmakers, the NYC Police Commissioner commented: "The women found it convenient to engage in this work since it coincided roughly with the school hours, and in addition, they could handle their housework between calls."

This leisure has also influenced their parental prerogatives. It has encouraged a permissive discipline towards their leisure-oriented fun-conscious offspring with the result that girls tend to begin their "delinquent ways" at an earlier age, and thus become the delinquent woman at a later age. Drug addiction, larceny, illicit sex behavior, drinking, and vagrancy are engaged in by young teen-agers to a greater extent than in the recent past. Another phenomenon that is becoming more common is that girls are found nowadays to be active collaborators in boys' gangs.

The delinquent female has not aroused her share of scientific attention, despite the published fact that she has steadily increased her standing in practically all types of crime and deviant behavior. The statistics of crime rates, as with many sets of figures, especially figures for females, do not reveal everything. The numbers, referring to females in the crime statistics, under-estimate the realities---

(1) Women tend to behave like women even in crime. Women are not frequently involved, directly, with crimes of violence and force. (2) When women commit deviant acts they are more likely than men to be protected from paying the consequences. Thus, the delinquent woman, of tarnished propriety, is treated preferentially, as in tribute to ye olde morality. And the feminine charm continues; - tho recognized in the crime rates, the delinquent woman is spared the probing approach of the police scientist, and the public appraisal of the social scientist.

Specifically, is women's criminal behavior identifiable? Can this behavior be classified and systemitized as a Female Modus Operandi File?

This mini-view represents only an eyeful of the current crime scene in which the woman is playing a more dominant role than her prim sisters of an earlier decade. It is hoped that this perspective will invite and persuade a study in depth, with a view towards determining possibilities for systematic identification and classification of the delinquent woman.

SHORT SUBJECTS

We are happy to welcome new members, Frederick G. Getty, a former detective with the NYCPD, John J. Hummel, a Lieutenant with the Rahway, N. J., Police Department, and William J. Taggart, a former detective with the NYCPD.

Congratulations are in order for Ellsworth F. Schug. He is now the Chief Investigator with the Investigation Bureau of The Prudential Insurance Company of America.

President Ted Donnelly and John Stewart recently received real major league type appointments. They were selected to serve on Richard Nixon's Advisory Council on Law Enforcement. Ted, a Deputy Chief Inspector with the Suffolk County Police Department, and John, a Captain with the Pennsylvania Railroad Police Department, bring many years of law enforcement experience to Mr. Nixon's advisory group.

On February 6th, the Frederick D. Suydam Memorial Association presented its Annual Award to Superintendent William A. O'Connor as Law Enforcement Official of the Year. The Award, in the form of a plaque, was presented at a dinner held in the Commuter's Cafe, New York City. Bill O'Connor was similarly honored in October, 1965 by our Society. The Society is happy to learn about this new honor to Chief O'Connor. We are also delighted that his health permitted attendance at our most recent Executive Committee of the Society.

Herbert Raymonde of the New York State Commission of Investigation was one of one hundred eighteen trainees (including town justices, village justices and other persons interested in justice court work) in attendance at a one week judicial training program. The program was the eighth annual summer Justice Training Program sponsored by the Judicial Conference and held at St. Lawrence University, Canton, New York, in July of 1968.

Sidney Weinberg, our famous Suffolk County Medical Examiner, has been appointed to the renowned Policy Committee of the American Academy of Forensic Sciences. This committee consists of outstanding experts in the fields of Police Science, Criminology, the Medical Examiners' offices, Questioned Documents and the Law.

An other member who has taken on important responsibility is Phil Lynch. Phil recently moved up to Associate Professor and Chairman of the Police Science Department of the State University of New York at Farmingdale, New York. If memory serves the editors correctly, this is the largest Police Science operation in the nation.

The Society honored its two year-to-year functioning officers - Gene Canino, our Treasurer, and Tom Coon, our Secretary. Scrolls were presented at the September meeting. Incidentally, Gene Canino, our excellent Treasurer, is the oldest officer of the Society - oldest, we mean, in time of service.

Damian Salvia completed a long and distinguished career with the NYCPD in October of this year. Damian retired as a Lieutenant after serving with the department since September of 1932. He was the Commanding Officer of the 10th Squad at the time of his retirement. However, he had served throughout the years with the 72nd, 73rd and the Riverfront Squad of Brooklyn, among others. In fact, he was one of the six men who comprised the original Riverfront Squad of Brooklyn. The editors pressed Damian for a list of some of his outstanding cases but he merely responded, "I worked on a few good ones." In fact, the record shows he was associated with a good deal more than "a few." The city is losing a fine officer.

Ted Donnelly, our President, was recently elected Vice President of the International Conference of Police Associations.

The Society lost one of its most distinguished members since publication of the last edition of THE BULLETIN. Peter E. Terranova was a charter member of the Society and served as its third President. Pete was world renowned as the famous "Narcotics Inspector" of the NYCPD. Upon his retirement, he became an executive in the area of pier security. Law enforcement, the steamship industry and the Society grieve their loss. The Society of Professional Investigators extends sincere sympathy and condolences to the family of Peter E. Terranova.

PLACEMENT COMMITTEE

The Society's Placement Program will be operated on a strictly confidential basis. Applicants are urged

- (1) To provide resumes in triplicate.
- (2) To specify willingness or unwillingness to relocate or travel.
- (3) To indicate their approximate salary requirements.

Prospective employees will be asked to define as closely as possible the requirements and description of the position that is open; to indicate the location of employment; the date the opening is to exist; and the salary range involved.

Your committee will then furnish the prospective employer with a selected group of resumes, matching as closely as possible the job opening. We shall then bow out of the picture except to recoup the un-needed resumes and, hopefully, be kept informed of the success or failure of our efforts to aid in placing one of the applicants. This permits the employer to make the right contact with the applicant or applicants whose backgrounds and qualifications appeal to him. We might then deem it advisable to make an "availability" insert in The Bulletin if an issue is due for publication near the time the job is sought or that a job opening has come to our attention. Of course, there is no fee for these services.

FROM THE EDITORS

THE CHICAGO INCIDENT

The sight of a policeman's nightstick landing on an un-helmeted head does nothing for a viewer's appetite. Neither is this appetite enhanced when blood is seen running down the face of a young man whose face is contorted with pain. Although the American public watches with enjoyment when the hero in a cowboy movie cracks a whiskey bottle over the head of the villain, and then flings the bad guy over a bar into a large mirror, the realistic picture of a policeman in action sickens most viewers.

Brutality is never pleasant. However, when policemen act to prevent bloody disorder, the word "brutality" is not applicable any more than an assault against the Viet Cong by American troops and planes can be considered brutal.

No one can deny that the Chicago police used force against the demonstrators and that in some cases the amount of force used might have extended what was actually necessary. But then, who can decide in the heat of battle just where force is to end and diplomacy take over? Would demonstrators in Chicago have walked away peaceably if the police had asked them to? Would they have taken their bags of garbage and waste and moved out of the area? And if innocent bystanders were caught in the middle of the fracas and physically tossed around was it not their fault that they had moved too close to where the action was?

Maintaining law and order is not a job which is always accomplished by verbal requests. Neither can the police put down riots by playing guitars and having the police commissioner sing romantic ballads. Force is an element of police work. Physical danger is also another element with which the police officer lives everyday. Those who condemn all types of police force might enjoy a visit to the morgue one night when the body of a victim of a criminal attack is brought in. They might not feel too happy at viewing the body of a policeman who has been killed in the line of duty.

And speaking of bodies, isn't it a fact that during the Chicago demonstrations NO ONE WAS KILLED! And is it possible that the reason no lives were lost was the action of the police? The Editors seem to think so.

Let's analyse the overall situation. Chicago was invaded by the so-called Yippies for the purpose of disrupting the Democratic convention. They were training for weeks in techniques which can only be described as guerrilla tactics. They were planning to move into the city, confront the police, upset the lives of the Chicago citizens, create havoc within the area and the convention, and in general...look for trouble. How nice of the Chicago police to oblige them, by giving them what they wanted in good-sized doses.

What might have followed had the Yippies gotten their way in Chicago? Would they have extended their "revolution" to New York City, Detroit, Los Angeles, San Francisco? Would they have marched on Washington and attempted the same tactics? And isn't it true that these same factions plan to disrupt the inauguration in 1969 and attempt to disrupt a ceremony that is almost sacred? But the chances are good that there will be many who will not attempt such a sacrilege because they fear that the Washington police will take a lesson from their brothers in Chicago.

Force can only be met with force. When criminals attack decent citizens in the street they run only when police officers armed with guns come onto the scene. The pleas of the victim are never heeded by the criminal. If anything, he enjoys a sadistic pleasure in hearing the scared cries of the person he is assaulting.

To those persons critical of the Chicago police action we pose these questions:

- (1) Who invaded Chicago?
- (2) Why did they invade the city?
- (3) If they meant to be peaceful why did they train for physical combat?
- (4) How soon will they be ready to tackle the Chicago police again?

One very significant fact has not been given very much publicity. The citizens of Chicago are very proud of their police department. And national polls concur.

Dear Mr. Malone:

Your attention is directed to the letter from your office dated March 11, 1969, which forwarded a hardship transfer request from Special Agent [redacted] and a second letter from your office dated March 17, 1969, which forwarded a hardship transfer request from Special Agent [redacted].

The first of these letters bears the initials of the dictator as Mr. Joseph E. Ponder and the second the initials of Mr. Richard J. Baker. The phraseology in these two letters is very similar. In each case it is stated that a recommendation for transfer of the Agent in question cannot be made because of the critical need for Agents in the New York Office but immediately information is supplied which makes a strong case for granting the transfer. It is considered that while an affirmative transfer recommendation was not made in these two instances, the implication from the phraseology is that such action is advocated.

In this connection, your attention is called to SAC Letter 68-62 (B) dated October 31, 1968, which is directly in point. I wish to inform you that you will not be granted re-placements for either [redacted] or [redacted].

SUBJECT: ASSISTANT DIRECTOR JOHN F. MALONE
NEW YORK OFFICE

Assistant Director John F. Malone, New York Office, telephoned this afternoon, 3-28-69. He stated that his uncle, James Malone, age 84, died last night at the family home in Carbondale, Pennsylvania. Funeral arrangements are being handled by the McGranaghan Funeral Home.

SAC Malone has cleared with Assistant Director Felt who is conducting a field office inspection of the New York Office, relative to his going to Carbondale over the weekend. Mr. Malone desires to leave New York City Saturday afternoon, 3-29-69, for Carbondale, where he can be reached in care of the above-mentioned funeral home and he will be returning to New York on the evening of Sunday, 3-30-69. Mr. Malone was advised that this would be satisfactory.

RECOMMENDATION: The foregoing is submitted for record purposes. Ordinarily a letter of condolence is not written in the case of a death as far removed as an uncle and none is being prepared in this case.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
RACIAL MATTERS

John F. Helton

Reurtels 4-2-69 which advised of arrests on that date by New York City Police Department of Black Panther Party (BPP) members.

You advised that 26 individuals were to be arrested and that these arrests were based on conspiracy to commit murder and arson in New York City on 4-4-69. The targets of these BPP members reportedly were various department stores in New York City and the Panthers also had plans to bomb the 47th Precinct of the New York City Police Department as well as eight different locations on the New Haven railroad tracks.

There is no indication from data submitted by your office that you have considered possible FBI investigative jurisdiction in connection with the various activities involved including the Federal Train Wreck Statute, antiriot statutes and possible violations under the firearms acts.

On numerous occasions the Bureau has stressed the need for priority investigative attention to investigations of the BPP and its members. By personal attention airtel 1-27-69 several events were called to your attention which indicated increased activities by the Panthers in New York City. These included an unprovoked attack by Panther members on two

New York City policemen on 1-17-69 and the arrest of a female member of the BPP who had over 70 sticks of dynamite in her apartment. The 1-27-69 airtel pointed out that your informant and source coverage in the BPP should be expanded so that the Bureau will be in a position to be on top of all Panther activities, particularly, any planned acts of violence. You were instructed to aim at developing sources and informants who are close to Panther leaders in order that we might have top level information regarding them.

Additionally, by personal attention letter dated 2-6-69, captioned "Administrative Review, New York Division, Racial Informants, Racial Matters," you were told that in view of the acts of violence which have been performed by individual BPP members in the past, it is obvious that this group poses an extremely grave danger. You were instructed to make continuous aggressive efforts to constantly expand your informant coverage on this group.

Despite numerous Bureau instructions regarding the need for priority attention to Panther investigations and development of sources and informants in the BPP, your office apparently developed little, if any, information regarding the activities on which the above-mentioned arrests were made. This is especially serious from a coverage standpoint when it is realized that reportedly 26 individuals are involved and there is a good possibility that many other Panther members, though not directly involved, may have had knowledge of these planned activities. Thus, adequate informant and source coverage on the BPP by your office should have detected these planned activities. Your apparent failure to come up with the information is a reflection on your efforts to cover and infiltrate the BPP.

Airtel to SAC, New York
Re: BLACK PANTHER PARTY

You should suairtel and furnish complete details regarding the information developed by the New York City Police Department in this matter which was the basis for the arrests and furnish complete details as to information developed by your sources and informants regarding the activities involved. In view of previous Bureau instructions regarding the need for increased informant and source coverage on the BPP and in view of the recent planned activities which were the basis for the above-mentioned arrests, you should include in your airtel specific facts regarding what steps were taken to improve your BPP coverage based on previous Bureau instructions and what specific and detailed steps you intend to take at the present time to insure complete and thorough penetration of the Panther Party with emphasis on development of high level sources and informants who can keep us abreast of Panther activities on a day to day basis, particularly any planned activities which involve violence.

A separate airtel should be submitted with your comments regarding possible criminal violations involved within the Bureau's investigative jurisdiction.

Dear Mr. Malone:

The serious matter of Special Agents of your office furnishing affidavits on their own volition at the request of the United States Attorney's Office without obtaining prior authorization to do so, has been brought to my attention. I am amazed, astounded, and at a loss to understand how such a deplorable situation could occur.

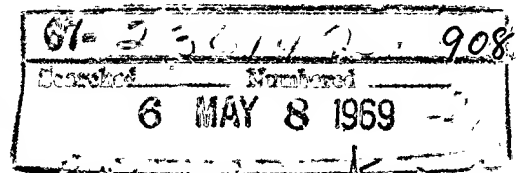

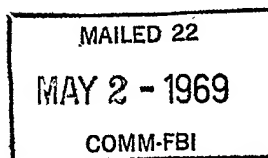

The actions of these Special Agents were highly improper and I want you to personally and emphatically bring to the attention of all your personnel the absolute necessity for having any request for an affidavit in any form brought immediately to the attention of your supervisory personnel so that the situation can be fully evaluated and the matter promptly brought to the attention of Bureau Headquarters for its consideration where warranted.

Severe administrative action will be taken in any instance where this procedure is not followed.

Very truly yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

PERSONAL ATTENTION

Mr. John F. Malone
Federal Bureau of Investigation
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Malone:

After reviewing the results of the recent inspection of the New York Office, I have approved the following ratings for your operations: Physical Condition and Maintenance, Investigative Operations, Administrative Operations, Personnel Matters and Applicant Recruitment Matters - Very Good; Contacts - Excellent.

Your office space, including that in the Resident Agencies, was found to be secure and generally well maintained. You should continue efforts to secure suitable automotive storage facilities at the Babylon, Garden City, Monticello and White Plains Resident Agencies. The condition of your automotive fleet was found to be satisfactory and no safety defects were found in the automobiles inspected. While your automotive operating and repair costs have been reduced since the last inspection, these costs are still above the field average. Additional efforts must be expended to bring about a reduction in these costs. Although the incidence of automobile accidents occurring during the period since the last inspection has not increased you should highlight the need for positive emphasis on defensive driving.

No phase of our operations is more critical than that involving racial matters. Although you have experienced no major racial disturbances recently, the New York area is highly vulnerable to volatile reaction from militant Black Nationalist groups, particularly the Black Panther Party. An urgent need exists for additional racial informant coverage by the New York Office so that you will be apprised of potential racial violence before it actually occurs. A case in point concerns your failure to develop advance information concerning the planned bombing of New York stores by members of the Black Panther Party who were recently arrested by the New York City police. Every Agent in the New York Office must share fully in meeting our responsibility for full intelligence in racial matters and you personally must provide the necessary aggressive leadership.

I am pleased to note that you are up substantially in all four categories of statistical accomplishments for the first nine months of the current fiscal year. I expect you to vigorously follow the progress of each Agent to insure your office is well up in all categories at the end of the current fiscal year. The delinquency of your office continues to be above average. This trend is undesirable and must be reversed. The substantive errors detected during the inspection, as well as the above-average missed civil rights and fugitive deadlines, pinpoint a need for closer supervisory attention to investigative cases. Of particular concern to me were the cumulative investigative delinquencies in the cases assigned to Special Agent [redacted] detected by the Inspector. This situation highlights a need for closer supervision to make certain such delinquencies do not recur.

Your bank robbery solution rate has declined since the last inspection. I shall expect you to follow closely the Inspector's instructions and specific suggestions to improve your solutions in these highly important cases. Your Criminal Intelligence and Interstate Gambling Activities Programs were rated excellent. The comprehensive identification of La Cosa Nostra members in your territory and the other excellent results achieved are indeed gratifying. With the application of additional manpower made available to you to combat organized crime, I shall expect an aggressive all-out effort to achieve maximum results.

As you well know, the Attorney General is establishing a "strike force" in the New York area to combat organized crime. You should make certain the Bureau is fully advised of all developments concerning this group, particularly during its formative stages.

Your Criminal and Security Informant Programs were rated very good. In view of the growth of the New Left movement in the New York area, particularly the Students for a Democratic Society, it is absolutely essential that you keep abreast of the activities of the various New Left groups. In order for the Bureau to meet its responsibilities in the security field you must establish additional coverage of the New Left groups to ascertain their plans in advance. Nothing less will be acceptable.

It was encouraging to note the aggressive programs instituted to afford coverage of Soviet-bloc espionage activities; however, greater efforts are necessary to develop Soviet defectors in place and identify illegal agents. (S)

Mr. John F. Malone

I was pleased to learn your Chief Clerk's Office is functioning in a generally efficient manner. Your project work, although reduced since the last inspection, is still too high and must be further reduced consistent with the availability of employees. I was pleased that your stenographic pool has not incurred a delinquency during the past six months. However, your stenographic and typing production is well below average. Afford this matter your personal attention to insure productivity is increased.

Your efforts in recruiting Agent applicants are gratifying. I note that while you exceeded your overall quota for recruitment of clerical personnel for the Seat of Government during the past year, you failed to meet your monthly quota four of the last ten quota months. You have also failed to recruit sufficient clerical employees for your own office. It is imperative that all personnel of the New York Office participate in providing a steady flow of top-quality applicants.

The Inspector concluded that a total of 954 Agents and 572 clerical employees is appropriate for the needs of the New York Office. As you were advised by the Inspector, this does not mean that you have a permanently fixed Agent complement. I have approved the establishment of an additional Criminal Division for the New York Office. I shall expect you to insure the effective discharge of all Bureau responsibilities in your territory with the complement authorized.

I was gratified to learn your SAC contacts are providing diversified and quality coverage, and your National Academy, liaison and police training programs appear effective.

You and the Special Agents in Charge must carefully study the inspection findings. Advise the Bureau within thirty days of the receipt of this letter of the corrective action taken to comply with the Inspector's instructions.

Sincerely yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have been most concerned to note recent comments in the press in connection with the Martin Luther King surveillances which are critical of you personally and of the Bureau's activity in this matter.

The Special Agents in Charge and I have discussed this situation and we want you to know that we are completely supporting you in the position you have taken and are behind you one thousand percent. We have every confidence that when the full story is known those who have so viciously criticised you will find themselves in a most embarrassing position.

I was delighted to see that the President has reiterated his confidence in you and I know that his support must be most heartening to you at this time. You may be assured that we in New York will take every opportunity to straighten out the thinking of those who persist in this totally unwarranted criticism.

Sincerely,

Dear Malone:

I want you to know how much I appreciate the outstanding manner in which you handled the interviews with officials of the Columbia Broadcasting System yesterday in the matter involving a false allegation that the FBI has tapped the telephone of a CBS employee.

Your refusal to be dissuaded by the cold and antagonistic attitude which greeted you in the office of one CBS official speaks very highly for your perseverance and determination to uncover both the source and the circumstances of this unfounded charge. Not only did you set the record straight at the CBS offices in New York, but you succeeded in extracting from one high-ranking official essential facts which he was most reluctant to give.

Efforts such as yours reflect a loyalty and a degree of competence which are rare indeed. 7 OCT 9 1969

Dear Mr. Malone:

I have reviewed the details concerning your handling of the hijacking of a TWA plane at Kennedy Airport on October 31, 1969, and find that the number of Agents you utilized at the scene was excessive. The utilization of a minimum amount of FBI manpower is essential in order to avoid any public comment which would reflect possible criticism on the Bureau's activities.

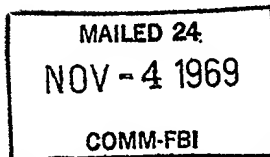

It is expected that in the future you will exercise sounder judgment in any instance where it becomes necessary for the FBI to carry out any activity relating to the hijacking of an aircraft.

In performing such responsibilities, however, you should bear in mind that the paramount concern is for the safety of the passengers, crew, and aircraft.

Very truly yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Mr. John F. Malone
Federal Bureau of Investigation

Dear Mr. Malone:

In a New York memorandum of January 19, 1970, concerning an automobile accident involving a Bureau car on January 13, 1970, it was indicated that the agent should not be held responsible since the roadway was icy and stopping was prohibited by law.

Such reasoning is fallacious. The first car to stop did so to avoid a collision as did the car following. It should have been apparent that if the two other drivers succeeded in stopping, our employee should have been able to bring the Bureau vehicle to a stop had he been alert in his driving. In the future you should insure such matters are properly analyzed in your office and that recommendations submitted by your subordinates are consistent with the facts and not influenced by a palliative attitude.

Very truly yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

On the evening of 2/3/70, ADIC Malone received the Annual Award given by the FREDERICK D. SUYDAM MEMORIAL SOCIETY for his outstanding career in law enforcement. This society is named for the late Mr. Suydam who was a Military Intelligence Officer in World War II and who was a prominent supporter and benefactor of law enforcement in the metropolitan New York City area for many years. This was the tenth year this award has been presented. The previous recipients have been persons with outstanding records in the law enforcement profession in this area.

The dinner was attended by some three hundred persons including ranking police officials from New York City and surrounding communities, city officials, members of the judiciary and prominent businessmen. Mr. Malone accepted the award on behalf of all his associates in the FBI. His remarks were well received and his talk as well as the speeches made by a number of prominent members and guests of the society reflected a great deal of credit on Mr. Malone and the Bureau.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I received in the mail today your letter summarizing the results of the recent inspection of the New York Office.

Of course, I felt very badly that you found it necessary to give ratings of Unsatisfactory on our administrative operations and Fair on applicant recruitment, as well as to place me on probation for these shortcomings.

I want to assure you that these matters are receiving my personal attention. We have already made considerable progress in rectifying the conditions found by the inspection staff. The Special Agents in Charge, together with all of the members of the supervisory staff, share my concern in this matter and will do everything within our power not only to correct the deficiencies pointed out to us, but to improve our operations in every way possible.

With kind personal regards,

Sincerely,

PERSONAL ATTENTION

Mr. John E. Malone
Federal Bureau of Investigation
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Malone:

After reviewing the results of the recent inspection of the New York Office, I have approved the following ratings for your operations: Administrative Operations - Unsatisfactory; Applicant Recruitment Matters - Fair; Physical Condition and Maintenance, Investigative Operations and Personnel Matters - Very Good; Contacts - Excellent.

Your office space, including that in the Resident Agencies, was found to be secure and generally well maintained. You should continue efforts to secure suitable automotive storage facilities at the Babylon, Garden City, Monticello, Staten Island and White Plains Resident Agencies. The condition of your automotive fleet was found to be satisfactory and no safety defects were found in the automobiles inspected. Your automotive operating and repair costs are above the field average. Additional efforts must be expended to bring about a reduction in these costs. The increase in the number of automobile accidents since the last inspection is of concern and you should place more emphasis on safe and defensive driving. Based on the Inspector's findings, your request for thirteen additional automobiles was found unjustified.

No phase of our operations is more critical than that involving racial matters. While no major racial disturbances have erupted in New York recently, the New York area is highly vulnerable to volatile reaction from Black Nationalist groups, particularly the Black Panther Party. Furthermore, additional racial informant coverage is urgently needed to insure advance knowledge of potential racial violence.

I was pleased to note the very favorable record of statistical accomplishments achieved by your office for Fiscal Year 1969. I am concerned, however, with the present decline in convictions. I expect you to make a concerted effort to improve your showing in this regard to insure your office is up in all categories at the end of the current fiscal year. Your delinquency continues to be above average and this undesirable trend must be reversed. Your solution rate of bank robbery violations is slightly higher than during the last inspection. However, I shall expect you to closely follow the Inspector's specific suggestions to improve your solutions in these highly important cases. Your Criminal Intelligence and Interstate Gambling Activities Programs have made excellent contributions and I am gratified by the successful prosecutions and pending prosecutions of organized crime figures in your territory. Encourage your personnel to continue the development of top-echelon informants.

The Criminal Informant Program was rated excellent while the Security Informant Program was rated very good. Although you have good coverage of the Communist Party, there is a need to increase your potential security informants. Similarly, the coverage in the New Left movement, particularly the Weatherman Faction, needs definite strengthening. Recent streamlining procedures which I have approved should enable you to divert additional Agents to high-priority investigative matters such as the New Left movement. I have approved the establishment of an additional supervisory desk in the Security Division to implement the intensified coverage. I shall expect you to insure effective discharge of the Bureau's responsibilities to cover the militant activities of the New Left movement. Further, aggressive and imaginative handling of espionage and double agent matters must continue.

The Chief Clerk's Office was found to be well organized and functioning effectively. Your project work is up slightly from last inspection and must be reduced consistent with the availability of employees. Your stenographic and typing production is below average. You must strive to increase productivity through training and close supervision.

In view of streamlining measures already approved and the diversion of Agent manpower from less essential programs, your request for seventy-nine additional Agents is not justified at this time. However, I have approved the transfer in of twenty additional Agents for assignment to high-priority programs. I will expect you to insure effective discharge of all Bureau responsibilities in your Division.

It was gratifying to learn of the high esteem in which the FBI is held by prominent individuals in your territory. Your public appearance, liaison, police training and National Academy programs were all determined to be very effective.

The detection of substantive errors during the inspection, as well as the above-average missed civil rights and fugitive deadlines, indicates a need for closer supervisory attention to investigative cases. Of particular concern to me were the cumulative investigative delinquencies found in the Accounting Squad. This supervisory breakdown highlights the need for more concentrated training and direction by you to preclude a recurrence. Furthermore, the serious administrative delinquencies detected in the accounting rotor file are completely unacceptable. I am well aware that the weakness of one supervisor was the primary causative factor in both the substantive and administrative deficiencies found. However, this is the sort of weakness I expect you to prevent through frequent spot checks. Impress on your Special Agents in Charge that I expect them to be thoroughly familiar with the operations of each squad in their respective Divisions.

While I am pleased with your progress in recruiting clerical employees for the Seat of Government and Special Agent applicants, your continued failure to recruit sufficient clerks for your own office is most disappointing. Because of this serious shortcoming and also because of the administrative flaws found in the Accounting Squad, you are being censured and placed on probation. Prompt and effective correction of these deficiencies will be a real test of your ability as Assistant Director in Charge.

You and the Special Agents in Charge must carefully review the inspection findings and within thirty days of receipt of this letter inform the Bureau of corrective action taken to comply with the Inspector's instructions.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

Sullivan, Criminal Division, since 7/15/68; Victor Turya, Espionage Division, since 5/2/69. (Easha under transfer to Baltimore as SAC. SAC Roland E. Trent under transfer in from Columbia.) Last inspection: 5/27 - 4/18/69.

Physical Condition and Maintenance - Very Good (Last Inspection - Very Good). Space well maintained and secure. No safety defects detected in 53 of 156 cars inspected. Automobile costs above field average. Economy stressed. Present automobile fleet adequate.

Investigative Operations - Very Good (Last Inspection - Very Good). Racial situation remains highly volatile. Decrease in number of racial informants -- additional coverage stressed, particularly in extremist groups.

Case load down slightly since last inspection. Delinquency above average; case load and case closings per Agent below average. Accomplishments thus far this fiscal year (3 Y) ahead 3 categories, behind 12 in convictions -- improvement stressed. Large backlog of cases awaiting court action. Solutions bank robbery violations up slightly. Criminal Intelligence and Interstate Gambling Activities Programs rate excellent. Criminal Informant Program rated excellent and Security Informant Program very good. Importance of New Left investigations stressed -- instructions issued to put particular emphasis on violence and terrorist oriented groups. Number of substantive errors detected below average (handled separately).

Administrative Operations - Unsatisfactory (Last Inspection - Very Good). Equitable distribution of work among 54 supervisory posts. Additional supervisory desk in Security Division approved separately. Chief Clerk's Office generally effective. Stenographic and typing production slightly below average. Form errors slightly above. in extensive delays in 26 cases. Primary culpability rests with Supervisor [ ] who is being censured, placed on probation, removed as supervisor, suspended for 30 days, demoted to Grade 13 and transferred. SAC Sullivan, who is in charge of Criminal Division, being separately censured and placed on probation. Special Agents [ ] and [ ] involved with the extended delays in cases. Censured, placed on probation, transferred and suspended for 15, 10 and 5 days respectively. Special Agent [ ] who held unprocessed mail for an extended period, being censured, placed on probation and removed as Relief Supervisor. Special Agent [ ] who also held unprocessed mail, being censured and placed on probation. Overtime equitably shared.

Personnel Matters - Very Good (Last Inspection - Very Good). At time inspection began, authorized complement was 964 Agents and 552 clerks. Office requested 79 additional Agents; however, Inspector found Agents could be diverted from lower-priority matters to handle most of higher-priority matters in New Left and racial violence and in organized crime. Inspector recommended transfer in of 20 Agents (approved separately), resulting in approved Agent quota of 974. Retention of Agents on probation and in limited duty status justified. Morale appears excellent.

Applicant Recruitment Matters - Fair (Last Inspection - Very Good). 80 clerical employees for Dept of Government recruited since last inspection (quota 68). 54 Agents recruited during past year. However, office has consistently been unable to fill its own clerical quota despite recruiting assistance from surrounding offices and currently has 80 clerical vacancies. While office has 35 clerical appointments outstanding and a large number of applicants being processed, more intensified efforts are needed. Instructed to press vigorously.

Contacts - Excellent (Last Inspection - Excellent). All programs effective and relations excellent. FBI and Director held in very high esteem.

PHYSICAL CONDITION AND MAINTENANCE . . . . . VERY GOOD

Office space in commercial building in residential Manhattan is secure, well maintained and conveniently located. Effectively reorganized since last inspection to provide for newly created Division. Resident Agencies occupy suitable and secure space. 53 of 166 autos inspected. No safety defects. 5 Resident Agencies do not have facilities for autos assigned -- instructions issued to continue efforts to obtain same. Operating and repair costs above average; economy stressed. Utilization rate improved. 54 accidents since last inspection (25 in previous comparable period). Bureau personnel held responsible in 6 accidents (5 in prior period). Inspector pointed out excessive number of accidents and instructed thorough indoctrination of employees in safe and defensive driving. SAC requested 13 additional cars -- Inspector of opinion not justified (handled separately).

INVESTIGATIVE OPERATIONS . . . . . VERY GOOD

No serious racial violence reported. However, situation remains highly volatile; could erupt into major disturbance. Decrease in racial informants highlights need for revitalization of program. Inspector instituted use of Racial Informant Coordinator to strengthen administrative handling and ordered increased coverage of upper echelons of extremist groups.

Case load 4/30/70, 16,379 (14,719 active), slightly below last inspection - 16,791 (15,168 active). Delinquency consistently above field average. Case load and case closings per Agent below average. Statistical accomplishments FY 1969 ahead all categories; ten months current FY substantially ahead 3 categories, behind 12% in convictions. Large backlog awaiting court action. 10 substantive errors detected, below field average (handled separately). Since last inspection solved 68 of 139 bank robberies, 12 of 17 burglaries and 7 of 10 larcenies; overall solution rate 52% (last inspection 48.6%). 101 cases remain unsolved. Inspector made specific suggestions to improve solutions. Criminal Intelligence and Interstate Gambling Activities Programs rated excellent. 745 La Cosa Nostra (LCN) members identified; overall estimated total 1400. 55 top-echelon informants (46 last inspection); 187 targets under development (62 last inspection). 9 informants are LCN members with 65 additional LCN members under development. 10 anti-gambling convictions FY to date (6 last inspection); prosecution pending on 336 organized crime figures. Inspector issued specific instructions to continue saturation coverage on main hoodlums and their operations. Criminal Informant Program rated excellent; informants increased from 272 to 372 and potentials from 790 to 853; increase in informant accomplishments. Security Informant Program rated very good. Approximately 738 of estimated 923 Communist Party members identified. High-quality informant coverage exists on Communist Party, USA, and various Communist splinter groups, but need exists to develop additional potential security informants (230, same as last inspection). Investigations of New Left activities, particularly among Weatherman Faction of Students for a Democratic Society, being handled aggressively. Inspector stressed need for development of additional informants among these radical groups. Soviet and other foreign intelligence activities being afforded close attention. Since last inspection increased double agents from 40 to 44.

Missed applicant deadlines below field average, missed civil rights and fugitive deadlines above field average. Inspector pointed out recently approved streamlining procedures in Deserter and Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle cases will reduce Agents needed in New York to handle higher-priority cases during FY 1971.

ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS . . . . . UNSATISFACTORY

Work load distribution among 54 supervisory desks (including Assistant Director and 5 SACs) - justified. Additional supervisory desk in Security Division approved separately. Chief Clerk's Office generally efficient. Inspector located over 200 pieces of mail on one rotor file which had not been appropriately processed. The mail had been initialled by case Agents but had not been charged out to the Agents (handled separately). Cumulative investigative and administrative delinquencies of 5 Agents and inadequate supervision of one supervisor detected (handled separately). Unfavorable trends in (1) the recording of cases closed on SAC authority; (2) improper posting of the status of cases; (3) failure to indicate on file jacket that information was disseminated to Secret Service; and (4) failure to show specific dates when investigation conducted -- ordered corrected. Pending and project work up slightly from last inspection - reduction ordered. Form errors and misfiled index cards above average. Stenographic and typing production below average. Retypes low. During inspection stenographic delinquency of approximately 700 pages reduced to 13. Voluntary overtime essential, productive and being equitably shared.

PERSONNEL MATTERS . . . . . VERY GOOD

Approved complement as of 4/27/70 954 Agents and 552 clerks. New York's request for 79 additional Agents found not justified. Based on Inspector's findings and suggestions Agent personnel diverted to higher-priority matters. Inspector recommended 20 additional Agents (approved separately). Authorized complement fixed at 1526 (974 Agents, 552 clerks). Office 78 clerks under authorized quota. No male employees overweight or unavailable. One Agent on probation and 11 on limited duty -- retention justified. Morale appears excellent.

APPLICANT RECRUITMENT MATTERS . . . . . FAIR

Since last inspection, New York has recruited 80 clerical employees (overall quota 66) and met monthly quota 7 of 11 quota months. Quota dropped 3/70. Office instructed to intensify efforts to fill clerical vacancies in New York Office. During period since last inspection, 58 Agents recruited with 3 appointments outstanding. Emphasis placed on mature applicants and need for Special Agent accountants.

CONTACTS . . . . . EXCELLENT

Valuable and diversified services furnished by 48 SAC contacts (41 last inspection). Of these well-dispersed contacts, Assistant Director in Charge has developed 32. Speech, liaison, National Academy and Police Training programs extremely effective. Relations with press, Federal, business and civic leaders and officials, including U. S. Attorneys, most favorable. All persons contacted expressed highest esteem for Director, FBI and New York personnel.

Mr. John F. Malone
Federal Bureau of Investigation
New York, New York

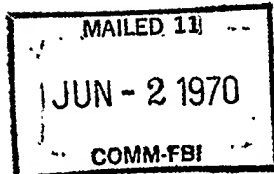

Dear Mr. Malone:

b6

In my letter to you of May 27, 1970, summarizing the results of the inspection of the New York Office, you were censured and placed in a probationary status. This action was necessary in view of numerous serious delinquencies detected during the inspection attributable for the most part to Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted]. There was absolutely no excuse or justification for the completely slipshod manner in which these two Agents had failed in discharging their investigative duties, which seriously impaired the investigative responsibilities of the Bureau. Therefore, as you are also aware, both of these Agents were suspended from duty, censured, placed on probation and transferred.

Recently, both of the above Agents submitted their requests for retirement and also requested that they be removed from their probationary status. In both instances you recommended that favorable consideration be given to removing them from this status. It is absolutely inconceivable to me how you could conscientiously make such a recommendation in considering the enormity of their shortcomings. This indicates a palliative attitude on your part and a lack of good judgment in fully recognizing that these Agents completely failed in carrying out their responsibilities.

As the Assistant Director in Charge of the New York Office, you have the overall responsibility to insure that this office functions in keeping with the high standards of this Bureau. I will tolerate nothing less. Therefore, I will expect you to immediately place your responsibilities in their proper perspective and exercise better judgment in making personnel recommendations in the future.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As you may be aware, John Malone has for the last several years been active as a member of the Executive Board, Greater New York Councils of the Boy Scouts of America. This board co-ordinates and directs all Boy Scout activities in the Greater New York City area. His efforts in Scouting have brought a great deal of credit to the Bureau and have enhanced our standing in this area.

I thought you would like to know that Mr. Malone on Wednesday received the Silver Beaver Award given annually by the Greater New York Councils for outstanding contributions to Scouting. This is the highest award that can be received in Scouting. I will enclose the program from the Presentation Dinner and you will notice that it lists the names of some extremely prominent persons who have been previous recipients of this award.

His receiving this award was a very important tribute to him and to the Bureau and I thought that you would like to know about it.

Sincerely,

BANK ROBBERY MATTERS
NEW YORK OFFICE

Figures available to the Bureau reveal that during the period 7/1/68 through 6/30/70, the New York Office has had a total of 396 violations of the Federal Bank Robbery and Incidental Crimes Statute. Of these violations, 192 have been solved. As of 6/30/70, the New York Office had a total of 157 violations pending unsolved. Definite improvement is needed in your solutions of these important cases.

Further analysis reveals that during Fiscal Year 1969, the New York Office had a total of 149 violations compared to 247 violations for Fiscal Year 1970. This increase is primarily due to a sharp upturn in bank robberies which increased from 114 in Fiscal Year 1969 to 208 in Fiscal Year 1970. This increase occurred primarily in the latter half of Fiscal Year 1970, and present indications are that this trend is continuing relatively unabated at the present time.

The above situation is indeed serious and requires a thorough reappraisal of your approach to these matters. By return airtel advise the Bureau of action you have taken to combat this situation. Specifically address yourself to the area of personnel adjustments made and also comment on plans instituted and/or contemplated concerning this classification. Include any other information in your airtel considered relevant such as any factors you feel are responsible for this increase; and if appropriate, comment on action being taken by local authorities.

By letter dated 5-27-70, Mr. Malone was CENSURED AND PLACED ON PROBATION as a result of an inspection in the New York Office. This inspection which was concluded in May, 1970, rated the various functions of the office as follows:

PHYSICAL CONDITION AND MAINTENANCE .....	VERY GOOD
INVESTIGATIVE OPERATIONS .....	VERY GOOD
ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS .....	UNSATISFACTORY
PERSONNEL MATTERS .....	VERY GOOD
APPLICANT RECRUITMENT MATTERS .....	FAIR
CONTACTS .....	EXCELLENT

The Unsatisfactory rating afforded Administrative Operations was due mainly to administrative breakdown in supervision on Accounting Squad in the Criminal Division, Supervisor routing mail to Agents without serializing or other processing, supervisory failure on Accounting Squad to follow cases administratively resulting in extensive delays in 28 cases, form errors slightly above average. The Fair rating afforded Applicant Recruitment matters was due to failure of Office to fill its own clerical quota despite recruiting assistance from surrounding offices and had 80 clerical vacancies. Due to the delinquencies detected in this inspection Mr. Malone's 1970 Annual Performance Rating was reduced from Outstanding to Excellent.

Since this administrative action was taken against Mr. Malone, the New York Office has been COMMENDED on 10 occasions.

Set forth below are statistical accomplishments of the New York Office, comparing last fiscal year with current fiscal year.

	FY 1970	FY 1971	CHANGE AMOUNT	%
Convictions	43	37 (1)	-6 (1)	-14%

Memorandum to Mr. Callahan

RE: JOHN F. MALONE
Assistant Director in Charge
New York Office
ON PROBATION SINCE 5-27-70
REMOVAL FROM PROBATION

(1) New York, during August, had 19 subjects convicted who were not actually sentenced in that month, but later. Thus the total attributed to August is higher than the previous year's same period.

(2) The New York Office has just completed an Anti-Trust case involving a recovery of about $85,000,000, which will be credited in the near future, following final settlement. This will bring the office substantially above the entire previous fiscal year in this respect.

With regard to the "FAIR" rating in Applicant Recruitment Matters, caused by the fact that at time of the inspection the office had 80 vacancies in the clerical staff, this has been the subject of intensified action. At present the New York Office clerical staff has no vacancies existing.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that Mr. Malone be removed from probation.

ADDENDUM OF THE INSPECTION DIVISION W.M. FELT:wmj 9/14/70

When in the New York Office on 7/29/70 to evaluate Agent manpower requirements for Bank Robbery matters, I also personally checked the condition of the Accounting Squad rotor. I found it to be operating efficiently and correctly. All files reviewed contained proper and current charge-outs. I talked with the new Accounting Squad supervisor, SA Vincent J. Cunningham, who appeared alert, enthusiastic and to have an excellent grasp of the situation. Current inquiry of the Accounting and Fraud Section at the Seat of Government reflects there has been substantial improvement in New York accounting work since the inspection. Recommend approval.

UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY
WEST POINT, NEW YORK

By letter 8/27/70 Assistant Director Malone, New York, forwarded a copy of a letter to him of 8/24/70 from Major General Samuel W. Koster in which the General requested that Mr. Malone provide a statement as a character reference for him. Koster is presently assigned at Fort Meade, Maryland. Previously he was superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York and before that was Commander of the Americal Division in Viet Nam. Charges are pending against him which emanated from his position as Commander of the Americal Division during the "My Lai Incident" of March, 1968, (infantrymen have been charged with killing over 100 civilian Vietnamese at My Lai). Koster was charged with failing to make reports to higher headquarters which the prosecutor alleges should have been made and with dereliction of duty by failing to conduct proper and adequate investigations of the incident during the Spring of 1968.

Koster's attorneys have advised that character statements would be extremely helpful to counter the charges. Koster requested that Mr. Malone provide comments on his abilities as a commander and/or staff officer and his adherence to Army regulations and Mr. Malone's opinion as to his reputation in the community for honesty and truthfulness.

Mr. Malone advised that as a result of close liaison maintained with the U.S. Military Academy, he became acquainted with General Koster during the latter's tenure as superintendent. During this period the General was most cooperative with the Bureau and did a great deal personally to perpetuate the excellent liaison. Mr. Malone said he is not in a position to comment, based on personal experience, as to the abilities of Koster as a commander or as to his reputation. He has learned from officials at the Academy that Koster did an outstanding administrative job there, was highly respected, and has been referred to as a very high-type individual. Koster requested that Mr. Malone forward his statement to Koster's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, the highly-publicized defense attorney of Washington, D. C. Mr. Malone forwarded a proposed letter for Bureau approval that he would send to General Koster. In the proposed letter Mr. Malone states that while he would certainly like to be of assistance, it is contrary to a long-established policy of the FBI to furnish endorsements of persons who are not present or former employees of the FBI. It is believed the proposed letter should be revised in that we do not refer to service record summaries and the like on former employees as endorsements and it is possible, with Bureau approval, for employees to be references for personal acquaintances although general policy would dictate against a Bureau official serving as a character reference for an individual under investigation and prosecution elsewhere. It is believed we should advise Mr. Malone to state in his letter to General Koster that in keeping with general policy of this Bureau, it would be inappropriate for an official of the FBI to provide a statement in this matter.

Bureau files on General Koster show only that he was sent a letter over the Director's signature 4/25/69 thanking him for his complimentary remarks about the Bureau during the opening address at the Law Enforcement Administrators Seminar on 4/14/69 at the U. S. Military Academy.

RECOMMENDATION:

That enclosed proposed letter to New York be approved setting forth a revised proposed letter for Mr. Malone to send to General Koster advising that in keeping with general policy of this Bureau, it would be inappropriate for an official of the FBI to provide a statement in this matter.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. MOHR
MR. BISHOP
MR. CALLAHAN

Assistant Director John F. Malone called from New York to advise that he had issued my orders immediately but it so happened that, during our previous conversation, [ ] was calling in and asking for an appointment with his supervisor. Unofficially, he [ ] told his supervisor that, if he is fired with prejudice, he will have to fight it and, if he is transferred, the condition of his family is such he will have to resign. Mr. Malone said it looks as though we are rid of him. I said we can go ahead and suspend him for 30 days and then transfer him and we will be well rid of him. Mr. Malone asked if it would be all right to go ahead and tell him what action is to be taken and I said yes.

b6

I said I don't know how we ever came to have such a fellow in that position in New York but these things happen.

Mr. Malone said we haven't received his [ ] resignation officially but, in view of my thinking, he thought I would be happy to know this. I said yes, I am very happy to know that and we should get his resignation as soon as possible.

Very truly yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. MOHR
MR. CALLAHAN

I called Assistant Director John F. Malone in New York and told him I wanted to commend him for the way he handled the matter about Jay College. Mr. Malone thanked me.

I then told him I am sending through, today, a transfer after 30 days' suspension of [ ] from New York to Butte. I said I don't want him around that office at all, that I am hoping he will then retire. I said ordinarily I would dismiss him but he is a veteran and you have to go through a long procedure and they have indicated dismissal would not be sustained because he didn't mail the letter. I said I want his transfer to Butte because I hope he will resign as I understand he has four children and the working conditions of the Butte Office would be difficult for him in his circumstance.

I advised Mr. Malone, as soon as that letter comes through, to see that he [ ] is immediately advised and that he departs at the end of his suspension; that he is not to stay around and that no appeal will be considered. Mr. Malone said he will be on his way.

I reiterated that he (Malone) had done a fine job handling the other matter. Again he thanked me and stated anything he can do for me is a pleasure, that he is proud to be a part of the Bureau and hopes to continue under me for a long time.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have just finished reading your interview which appeared in detail today in the New York Post.

I wanted to drop this note to tell you how proud I was of the manner in which you handled this interview. You told things exactly as they were and your frankness and honesty are something that is lacking in our country today as far as the people are concerned. They are not being told the full facts and the truth. Those who read your interview will have it right straight from the shoulder in a hard-hitting manner. Please accept my sincere congratulations on a job well done.

Your associates in the New York Office feel the same way about it and join in my sentiments.

With kind personal regards,

Sincerely,

John F. Malone

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As a follow-up on my telephone call today to Miss Gandy in connection with the visitor who appeared at the Cote Basque Restaurant, I thought you would be interested in the results of some inquiries we made today.

We had some information in our files on a [redacted] of the Bronx. From the material in our files, it appears that this [redacted] is a mental case and was a likely prospect. As a result, we had Agents check him out. b6

His wife was interviewed and advised that he is schizophrenic and has been in and out of mental hospitals for many years. He has told her that he works for the FBI, which she of course knows is not true. In addition, he has made threats against the President and the Secret Service has contacted her as well as neighbors on a number of occasions. Further, she states that he has a violent temper and has physically abused her on numerous occasions. She displayed to the Agents bruises that she presently bears.

[redacted] stated that her husband had left this morning and had not as yet returned. She commented that it was typical for him to leave in this manner and sometimes be gone three or four days without her hearing from him. REC-136 236142-1011 b6

You may rest assured that we will follow this out thoroughly, resolving his identity, and you will be kept advised of the results. I advised [redacted] of your desire that inquiries made at Cote Basque not be answered without first clearing with you. I complimented her on the manner in which and the efficiency with which she handled the [redacted] matter. b6

Dear Mr. Hoover:

With reference to my letter of January 15, 1971 in connection with the Cote Basque matter, we have rounded out all of the facts and I want to let you know of them.

b6

As I mentioned in my earlier note, we felt that [redacted] of the Bronx, was most likely the individual who had appeared at the restaurant on January 15, 1971. We obtained a photograph of him which was positively identified by [redacted] her son, [redacted] and the head waiter.

b6

We had contacted [redacted] wife on January 15th, as I mentioned in my note, but [redacted] had left his home that morning and his wife stated he would often be absent for three or four days. He was obviously running true to form since he did not return to his residence until early this morning. Our Agents have talked to him. He admitted that he was the individual who was at the Cote Basque and advised that he has claimed an acquaintance with you, as well as other nationally prominent figures, on a number of occasions in order to impress his associates.

b6

Although he has a history of mental problems, he appeared entirely rational today. REC-135 67-236142-1012 JAN 22 1971 accordingly emphatically admonished him for this type of activity and he promised that he would desist in the use of your name.

With kind personal regards,

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

-During the week of May 17-22, 1971 Mr. and Mrs. Loyd O. Dodson, of Los Angeles, will be celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. I do not know the specific date because the invitations have not been issued as yet.

The Dodsons have been close personal friends since my assignment in Los Angeles. Mr. Dodson has remained a particularly close friend of the Bureau since that time.

Mrs. Malone and I would like to attend the anniversary affair. We have not been to the West Coast in a number of years and we would like to make a two-week vacation of the occasion. This would give us an opportunity to visit with some of our friends whom we have not seen for years. And so, Mr. Hoover, the purpose of this letter is to request your permission to spend two weeks in Los Angeles during the middle of May. If you approve, the Bureau will be advised of the exact dates as soon as reservations can be confirmed.

I am mindful of the pending ☐ matter and want to assure you of my complete availability when needed. The finalization of any plans in regard to the Dodson anniversary will, of course, be contingent upon developments in the ☐ matter.

I am most appreciative of any consideration you may give my request. FEB 20 1971

I think it would be unwise for the Director and Mr. Tolson to see Mr. Malone while he is here discussing the [ ] Case because he will undoubtedly be questioned when he gives his deposition as to whether he was briefed, and it would be undesirable to state that he was briefed by the Director and Mr. Tolson. Dear General Mitchell:

I watched your appearance on the David Frost Show Tuesday night and just wanted to drop this note to tell you what an admirable job I thought you did.

You were very articulate, positive and forthright in answering the questions put to you, some of which were real curves.

I also want to express my appreciation for the fine backing you are giving the Director and the FBI in these trying times. You know how we all feel about the Director and the great job he has done and is doing for the Bureau. It is very disheartening to see so much undeserved sniping against a man who is so dedicated and has given his all for what he believes in.

So, believe me when I say that all of us in the FBI are very grateful to you for not being afraid to stand up and be counted.

With kind personal regards,

Sincerely,
